FATHER BEAT SON

HE FINISHED 4-YEAR COURSE IN 3 YEARS, WHILE IT TOOK SON 4 YEARS.

TO GET DIPLOMAS AT SAME TIME

E. E. Vannatta and His Son, Earl S. Vannatta, Are To Be Graduated from the University of Missouri the Ensuing Week.

Columbia, Mo., June 3.—Next week when the seniors of the University of Missouri line up in the auditorium of Academic hall to receive their diplomas a father and a son, both in the same class and in the same department, will be among the number.

The two are E. E. Vannatta, 43 years old, and his son, Earl S. Vannatta, 22 years old, of Vandalia, Mo. Both will receive the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture and both have taken the full course, except that the father has finished it in three years and the son in four.

The father, E. E. Vannatta, was a student in the university in 1883-4, but did not finish his course because he fell in love with and married a girl in Stephens college.

Both quit school and moved to a farm near Vandalia, Mo. The father, however, never lost an interest in the university, and when his son began writing entertaining letters home about the work of the college of agriculture here, he became interested to such an extent that he sold his farm and moved back to Columbia to resume his studies.

Mr. Vannatta has done the same work in three years that his son has taken four years to accomplish. His excellent work has made him eligible to the Alpha Zeta, the leading honorary fraternity of his department. He is popular among the students in his department and takes an interest in all department organizations. He held several offices in the class organizations.

His popularity is largely due to the fact that he built a "farm house" for the students in his department. The house is conducted on the cooperative plan by the students and makes living cheaper for them than boarding at private houses.

Mr. Vannatta probably will specialize in some of the courses in agriculture and become a teacher in some of the branches of agriculture here in Columbia. His son, Earl, has a position with the State Soil Survey as soon as he is graduated.

BURIAL OF MARY KOHNEK

Little Girl Whose Life Was Crushed Out by Street Car.

The last sad rites over the remains of little Mary Kohnek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kohnek, who was ground to death by a street car in front of her home, 311 East Third street, Wednesday forenoon, were conducted by the Rev. Fr. B. R. McNamee at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9 o'clock this morning.

Almost total strangers in the city, the parents of the child were showered with sympathy from numerous Sedalians, who became acquainted with the family through newspaper accounts of the accident.

There were many pretty floral offerings resting on the coffin, and after the services at the church six little boys, selected from the neighborhood, accompanied the body as pallbearers to the Catholic cemetery, where burial was made.

Lee Monroe a Missouri Pacific machinist, residing at Sixth street and Missouri avenue, had his right forearm fractured at the wrist at 10:30 o'clock last night.

ONLY THREE WHITE WOMEN THERE

Prisoner In Question Forged Her Father's Name to An Order for a Hat—Steps Being Taken to Make a Transfer.

Richmond, Va., June 3.—Possessed of a craving for finery and desire to dress well, Letitia May, 15 years old, and of good family, was sent to the Virginia penitentiary for five years for having forged her father's name to an order for a hat.

The prosecution was caused by her parent.

She has been incarcerated for almost a year now and her friends on the outside are uniting in an effort to have her removed to the Home for Girls or some like institution, because she is forced to work, eat and march with negroes, there being but three white women in the pen.

The move is being headed by officials of the home. Gov. William H. Mann will be petitioned to effect the transfer.

MARRIED THIS MORNING

Mrs. J. D. Murphy, of 1211 East Eleventh street, and Miss Tillie Schneider left this morning for Clifton City, where, at high noon today, they attended the marriage of Frank Murphy, a former Missouri Pacific machinist of this city, to Miss Nola Thomas, a daughter of Rev. Zeb Thomas, a widely known Baptist minister of this locality.

The Rev. R. C. Milier, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

A wedding dinner was served immediately afterwards, and the bridal couple will leave at once for Davenport, Ia., to spend their honeymoon, after which they will be at home to friends at Amarillo, Texas, where Mr. Murphy holds a good position.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED

Clothes Ignited From Incubator Lamp at Windsor.

Mrs. James Feaster, of Windsor, awoke Wednesday night, thinking she smelled smoke in the room.

Fearing the house was on fire, she got up to investigate and found the lamp in the incubator in another room was blazing too high.

She called her husband, who caught up a wet cloth, grabbed the lamp and threw it out of the door.

Oil was spilled on Mrs. Feaster's night clothes, which caught fire, and before her husband could get the flames extinguished she was seriously burned.

CLOSE OF CONTEST

THAT INAUGURATED BY THE LADIES OF TRINITY ENGLISH CHURCH.

SPIRITED FROM START TO FINISH

Object Was to Raise Money to Pay Off Debt on Edifice—Some of the Methods Indulged in to Riase the Coin.

A thirty days' money raising contest among the ladies of Trinity English Lutheran church, who are engaged in a campaign to "lift" a church debt by the end of the present year, was concluded this afternoon, when, at the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Dr. M. L. Myers, on South Quincy avenue, the results were announced.

The contest was inaugurated at the May meeting, one month ago. The ladies were to work in squads of ten, headed by captains, until the June meeting. The captains appointed were: Mesdames M. L. Myers, C. L. Maggard, L. W. Sifferd and Walter J. Brill. The members of the squads were composed of all the ladies of the church.

The ladies of the respective squads held socials, served lunches and coffees, made candy and sold it, made yeast and sold it, held rummage sales and solicited members of the church, neighbors and friends for contributions in their effort to make the best showing.

The squad earning the smallest amount was declared defeated, and the members will be required to give a supper some time in the future—they to make all arrangements, in preparing and serving.

The contest was spirited from the very start and before the close bordered on excitement and especially so when rumors that some other squad was making greater progress than the others were circulated.

The total amount raised was $89.99, divided as follows:

Squad captained by Mrs. W. J. Brill, $32.25.

Squad captained by Mrs. C. L. Maggard, $26.09.

Squad captained by Mrs. L. W. Sifferd, $18.40.

Squad captained by Mrs. M. L. Myers, $13.25.

OVERCOATS IN DEMAND

Straw Hats Were Few and Far Between This Morning.

Straw hats were few and far between in Sedalia this morning, but overcoats were plentiful. The temperature ranged around 50 degrees, despite which rain fell for a couple of hours. The St. Louis Republic of this morning says:

The cold wave which last night compelled West End and suburban residents to start furnaces was general throughout the northwest and middle west, according to dispatches received by the Republic.

The southwest generally underwent the opposite of a cold wave. At Altus, Ok., the temperature was 110 in the shade, 116 in the sun, and at Abilene and Amarillo, Texas, the thermometer went as high as 104 degrees.

Reports from some northwestern sections showed wheat was freezing, while in other sections it was scorched by the sun.

Carted It Into Woods and Took Loot After Cracking It.

Salina, Kas., June3.—During a thunder storm last night three men broke into the postoffice at Kanapolis, thirty miles west of here, loaded the safe on a truck and took it some distance away, where it was cracked open.

Six hundred dollars in cash and $1,000 in stamps were taken. The robbery was not discovered until today.

Stoned a Reigning Prince.

BOY OPERATED ON

KNIFE WAS USED AT TOLEDO, O., BY SURGEONS TO CORRECT A DELINQUENCY.

DID NOT PROVE A GRAND SUCCESS

Did Not Bring About Reformation Desired, for the Lad Skipped Out With $50 When Sent to Bank to Deposit It.

Toledo, Ohio, June 3.—Toledo surgeons interested in the reformation of youths by use of the knife were compelled to admit its failure yesterday when it was reported to the police that Harold Hurley, 19 years old, who three years ago was the first patient in this country to be operated on to relieve a pressure on the brain in the hope of correcting evil tendencies in the boy, had disappeared with $50 of his employer's money.

Hurley was employed by a shoe company. Yesterday morning he was sent to the bank with $50 to deposit. He failed to go to the bank and has not been heard of since.

Young Hurley, since the operation, has borne a good reputation up to this time.

HOLDING PRIMARY

GOVERNOR MALCOLM R. PATTERSON HOPES TO BE RENOMINATED TODAY.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF TENNESSEE

Acquired National Prominence By the Pardon of Duncan B. Cooper, the Slayer of Former Senator Carmack.

Nashville, Tenn., June 3.—Gov. Malcolm R. Patterson, who came into national prominence through his pardon of Duncan B. Cooper, alleged slayer of Senator Carmack, thus upsetting the verdict of the state supreme court, is again a candidate for governor of Tennessee in today's democratic primary.

In announcing his candidacy, Gov. Patterson issued an explanation of his action in the Cooper case.

Declaring that, "without impugning the opinions of others, I think it was a miscarriage of justice when he was not acquitted," Gov. Patterson continues:

"Believing this, what course should I have pursued? It is said that the defendant was my friend, politically and personally. But shall I deny justice to a friend? Shall I refuse to accord to him that which an enemy has the right to ask and the humblest citizen has a right to expect?

"'Right or wrong,' the statement concludes, "I have acted, and men may differ about it as they please. My own conception of duty is fulfilled. By it, I am willing to stand or fall, to be judged here and hereafter."

SHOW OF HUBBIES

WIVES OF PITTSBURG ARE TO PLACE SPOUSES ON PUBLIC EXHIBITION.

ARE PUT THROUGH THEIR STUNTS

Recently Held Baby Show to Disprove Minister's Charge of Race Suicide—Propose to Become Better Acquainted.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 3.—An "exhibit of husbands" is the novel show planned for this month by the Women's club, one of the most exclusive social organizations of the Smoky City.

For weeks the "hubbies" have been groomed and put through their stunts in order that they may show up to the best advantage. The husband show will take the place of the club's annual June rose festival.

Some time ago, when a prominent clergyman of Pittsburg preached a sermon denouncing race suicide, and naming club and society women as the principal offenders, the Women's club held a baby show just to disprove the minister's statements.

Now, however, having properly exploited their babies, the women desire further to impress the ignorant persons of Pittsburg with the fact that they are really and truly home lovers, even if they do belong to clubs, and for this purpose they will give a field day, at which they will put their husbands on exhibition.

The husbands of half the members of the Women's club don't know the husbands of the other half, but they will be made acquainted.

FIGHT STORY FAKE

GOV. GILLETT MISQUOTED IN SAYING THAT ALL WAS "ARRANGED."

JIM JEFFRIES IS DISHEARTENED

Says He Has Notion to Throw Up Whole Affair and Quit the Game—Interview Is Denied by the Chief Executive.

Ben Lomond, Cal., June 3.—"For two pins I'd pack up and take my family back to the ranch and call the whole thing off," declared James J. Jeffries yesterday when he was shown on interview sent out by a news agency from Chicago quoting Governor James N. Gillett as saying the Jeffries-Johnson fight was a "frame-up" and arranged for the white man to win. Jeffries was hurt and angry over the matter.

"I cannot believe," he said, "that Gillett has been truthfully quoted. I do not believe he ever said a word against the fight, but if he did it was uncalled for and untrue."

Turning to the newspaper men, the big fighter said:

"You boys who have seen me working up here must know that my heart and soul are in the coming scrap and it doesn't stand to reason I would break my neck working if everything was settled for me to win. I wonder what I have ever done in the ring or in any other walk of life to be accused of crookedness?

"I quit the fight game once because I did not care for those connected with it, or the knockers who were continually rapping it, and now this story has come. It's enough to break a man up."

For a while the camp was in a turmoil as a result of the story. Jim Corbett boiled over with indignation and wanted to bet all kinds of money that the governor could not prove the alleged assertion.

ANNUAL TOAST LUNCHEON

United Daughters of the Confederacy This Afternoon.

The third annual toast luncheon of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was given at Rembaugh's cafe at 1 o'clock this afternoon, at which more than fifty leading members of the society attended.

Mrs. Charles C. Evans was toastmistress of the occasion. The menu was served in four courses, and was one of the daintiest ever served in this city.

Among the guests at the table were a number of out-of-town Daughters. Mrs. Evans, Mrs. F. S. Leach, Mrs. Lelia M. Kidd and Mrs. George F. Longan comprised the committee having the affair in charge.

All in all the function was one of the most elegantly arranged and perfectly executed of the kind ever held in Sedalia, and the occasion will long be remembered by all fortunate enough to attend.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

The insolent civility of a proud man is, if possible, more shocking than his rudeness could be; because he shows you, by his manner, that he thinks it mere condescension in him; and that his goodness alone bestows upon you what you have no pretense to claim.—Chesterfield.

CHAMP CLARKS PROPOSITION.

The proposition of Representative Champ Clark in his recent able tariff speech is so reasonable that the republican majority can not reject it without betraying once more their unwillingness to relieve the people of the most intolerable burden of the protective system. As the official leader of the minority he promises that if the ways and means committee will bring in an exclusive bill to abate the iniquities of the schedule of wool and woolens it will receive the vote of every democrat in the house.

Republican members of congress who are so impatient to hasten home to mend their dilapidated fences would find nothing so well calculated for this purpose as the adoption of Representative Clark's proposition. They would thereby give an earnest of their good intentions, and from a mere party point of view they would wrest a formidable weapon from the hands of their opponents, to say nothing of the great boon they would thus confer upon millions of American people.

For their encouragement, President Taft has said that the schedule on woolens is an iniquity, and that its reform in the extra session was prevented only by a formidable combination of manufacturers and sheep growers. To reject the equitable proposition of Mr. Clark is to confess in effect, then, that the republican majority in the house is still under the thrall of this rapacious combination. It is to confess that there is no hope of relieving the people of the brutal taxation of their woolen clothing flannels and blankets in this congress; for in the short session the senatorial attorneys of the sheep growing syndicates in the Rocky Mountains would talk the measure to death, even if a majority of the senate were in favor of it.

Acceptance of the offer of Representative Clark would not only remove at once a grave subject of controversy in the coming elections for congress, but it would afford a substantial guarantee of further reforms of tariff iniquities and abuses, even though the republicans should retain a majority in the house.

Rejection, on the other hand, means that there is no prospect of relieving the people of the barbarities of the schedule on woolens for three years to come, while their clothing will become scarcer, dearer and "shoddier," in the expressive language of the distinguished member from Missouri.

Above all, the refusal to listen to his proposition will unerringly point out to the voters of the country what members of the present congress should be left at home in the November elections for the country's good.

ON KEEPING CLEAN.

We are gradually earning the inestimable importance of keeping clean, says the Ladies' Home Journal. The most remarkable advances in surgery are applications of this humble virtue. The modern surgeon arrays himself in spotless linen, washes his hands forty times and even then puts on sterilized gloves of rubber, and meets his patient in a room from which every possible particle of dirt has been excluded.

His patient recovers. Sick people used to die of dirt. From the beginning of the world this has been the most prevalent of all diseases. The plagues which regularly desolated the medieval cities was invited by the foul streets, the open drains and the litter of the yards. At last it was perceived that dirt is a kind of poison. The salvation of children from disease is to keep them clean. The health of a neighborhood requires clean streets, alleys sharpley inspected and houses with sanitary plumbing. It is essential to our physical welfare that we breathe clean air and plenty of it, and drink clean water. It is here that every woman who wants to serve her family, her fellow beings, her community, can do the most effective work that can fall to woman's lot to do, to see that her neighborhood is clean. But, of course, that means first that she must keep herself and her family clean; her own house clean; her back yard and her front yard clean. With her own doorstep clean, she can insist that her neighbor do the same. For while cleanliness begins at home, it goes out until it pervades the entire population. And no time of the year is more auspicious for the beginning of a campaign of cleanliness than the beginning of spring.

GETTING RESULTS.

Publicity is so powerful an agent in the promotion of business that even poor advertising in weak mediums some times shows a margin of profit. But there is no reason why any dealer in merchandise should content himself with the meager returns from indifferent exploitation of his wares when an improvement of his advertising methods and a wiser selections of his mediums will multiply his gains.

To make every dollar of advertising appropriation do the maximum of work it is necessary to invest regularly in the space of a first class daily newspaper. No newspaper in this field yields better results than the Democrat-Sentinel.

Music is Rank Poison.

"Wagner is bad for youths; he is fatal to women." This was the remarkable declaration made on one occasion by Friedrich Nietzsche, the German philosopher. It epitomizes the accusation, which has recently been reiterated in some quarters with much emphasis, that the works of some of the greatest composers the world has known exercise an exceedingly baleful and dangerous influence over persons of certain temperaments. In fact, Nietzsche—himself once a Wagnerite—compares this kind of music to a subtle poison acting on brain and nerves.

The number of suicides attributed directly to the so-called "poison-music" is quite remarkable. The victims are invariably women who have come under the influence of what Nietzsche called the "unwholesome, decedent" musical system of Wagner. Within a month five as Nietzsche calls them—have played Tschaikowsky's "Suicide Symphony" and risen from the piano to find death by their own hands.

And because Tschaikowsky was such a consummate and refined artist, it appears that the quintessence of this poison is labeled the "Sixth Symphony." Like an alchemist of old, he was suffocated by the fumes of his own retort.

It takes time for this subtle poison to act fatally—time and fanatical surrender to its power.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HIS FIRST LOVE CASE.

Myron Woodworth was an attorney just passing middle age. He was known as the lawyer who had never lost a case. Whether this was because he would not take a case that he was not sure of or was so resourceful that his opponents could never defeat him does not appear. The fact remains that until the Yardley case was tried no judge or jury had ever brought a final decision or verdict against him. Upon that case hangs a tale.

Mrs. Yardley died, leaving some $10,000 to a sister, Mrs. Hunt, who had nursed her in her last illness, cutting off her own daughter, Julia Scott, a young married woman living in a different place. Mrs. Scott undertook to break the will on the ground that her aunt had influenced her mother while under the effect of opiates to leave her property to the aunt. No one doubted up to the last moment that Woodworth would win, for he has established every point needed to establish his plea.

The defendant's counsel called for Margaret Hunt, and the name was repeated by the clerk with no more reverence than he would have spoken the name of a habitual criminal. There was a rustle of woman's dress, and a young girl—she was the daughter of the defendant—passed to the witness stand. Her very appearance begot an unconscious deference in every man in the courtroom.

Woodworth at the moment of her entrance was chatting with a fellow attorney. When he turned his eyes to the witness they rested upon a vision of loveliness. Not only he, but judge, jury—indeed, every one in the court—fell under the spell of her presence. In a voice low and sweet she responded to the questions put to her by the defendant's counsel, who elicited from her testimony which if not shaken might yet turn the case against the plaintiff. But those who know Woodworth did not fear. It was upon cross-examination that he was especially strong. Indeed, as he listened to her evidence he saw a weak point that destroyed its value. She had repeated a conversation she had heard between her mother and the testator in which the former urged the latter to leave her property to her daughter, Julia Scott. But the witness had said that she was not in the room and did not see those who were talking.

When Woodworth took the witness for cross-examination and stood framing his first question a slight tremor passed over the girl, and she cast a quick glance at the judge as if to beseech protection. Then she turned her eyes back on the lawyer, bit her lip as if to gain courage and submitted herself to be tormented. She did not doubt for a moment that Woodworth would prove her a perjurer.

"Miss Hunt," he said, "how far was the room in which you were when you overheard the conversation you have mentioned from the room in which the conversation occurred?"

A trouble look passed over the face of the witness, and she did not answer the question.

The husband of the testator had been a physician, and his house—the house in which the conversation occurred—was fitted with a speaking tube between the front door and the doctor's bedroom. His window occupied the bedroom to which the tube led, Miss Hunt, standing at the front door directly before the lower tube mouth awaiting admittance, had heard the conversation through the tube. Woodworth knew this and was prepared to make the statement appear improbably. He might force her to admit that she was not in the house at all, then deny her a chance to tell how she had overheard the conversation.

He stood looking at the girl, who looked at him with all the gentle reproachfulness of a fawn regarding a hunter about to plung a knife into its throat. Then her eyes filled.

Woodworth's case was lost. All he had to do to win it was to draw out the girl's testimony so as to make it appear to the jury a weak invention. He knew in fact, as well as by her guiltless bearing that she spoke the truth. At the moment of triumph he gave up victory gave up his client's case which he was in duty bound to win.

"Let me see," he said, looking down at some notes he had made on a bit of paper. "Perhaps I can get at it in another way."

The other way did not lead to the speaking tube or to anything that would compromise the witness. After asking a number of irrelevant questions he released her from further examination.

Everyone wondered. The jury brought in a verdict for the defendant.

Woodworth went from the courtroom to his office, where he wrote a note to his client informing her that the case had been lost through his own fault and inclosing his check for $10,000.

But if the attorney lost the man hoped to gain. Every man has an ideal for his wife. It is seldom that the ideal is realized, but when Woodworth saw Margaret Hunt in the witness stand he recognize something more than he had ever pictured in his imagination. He sought her out and eventually married her. He says that if he lost the case in which she was a witness and $10,000 he won a blessing that no success could equal. Besides he has made up the pecuniary loss many times over.—Evelyn D. Witworth.

'TWAS A TRIUMPH

RECITAL GIVEN BY MISS AGNES SCOTT LONGAN LAST NIGHT.

FOR DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Young Sedalia Singer Was Greeted by an Enthusiastic Audience Which Was Delighted by Her Marvelous Voice.

Miss Agnes Scott Longan, Sedalia's talented young vocalist, delighted a most appreciative and enthusiastic audience at the First Christian church last night in a recital for the benefit of Emmet MacDonald chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, which for artistic worth and brilliant execution has seldom, if ever, been witnessed in Sedalia.

Miss Longan was assisted by Miss Alice Brown at the piano, and Miss Brown also gave a group of violin selections that added greatly to the thorough enjoyment of the evening's pleasure.

In one number, "At Parting," the composer, McNair Ilgenfritz, accompanied the singer, and he, too, contributed much to the delight of the occasion.

Much has been said of Miss Longan's voice in the past, and but little more can be said now, except that it still retains its wonderful sweetness and melody, added to, of course, in power and effect by the culture that it has undergone in Chicago since last heard here.

The entire audience, which was a cultured and fashionable one, was enraptured at the beautiful rendition of the program, and the expressions of praise and appreciation elicited foretell a most brilliant career for Miss Longan.

Flowers, a perfect deluge of them, rewarded her after each number and testified but faintly to the pleasure she was giving her hearers. Miss Brown also was the recipient of floral appreciations.

The program in full follows:

I.

To a Rosebud; How Much I Love Thee; To a Violet .....La Forge
Ecstasy; The Years at the Spring .....Beach

II.

Boat Song ..... Ware
Unmindful of the Roses...Schneider
The Lass With the Delicate Air.. ..... Arne
At Parting ..... Ilgenfritz

III.

Menuet ..... Beethoven
Fantasia—Garden Scene from .... Faust ..... Gounod
L'Escarpolette ..... Barnes

Miss Brown.

IV.

Cycle of Life .....Ronald
Prelude—Spring, Down in the Forest; summer, Love, I Have Won You; autumn, The Winds Are Calling; winter. Drift Down. Drift Down.

V.

Page's Song, "Nobles Signor,"... from Les Huguenots....Meyerbeer
Hindoo Song .....Bemberg
Maids of Cadiz .....Delibes

Between numbers 4 and 5 of the program, just as Miss Longan came forward to render her last contribution, Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, pastor of the First Christian church, stepped upon the platform and in very appropriate words presented her on behalf of the members of MacDonald chapter, with a beautiful loving cup, accompanied by a poem written by Sedalia's poetess, Miss Rosa Pearle, which told in musical rythm the love of all the chapter for the charming recipient:

To Agnes Scott Longan.

O singer, with a voice divine,
A wreath of eglantine we twine—
Remembrance sweet;
And with appreciation true
We place it 'round this gift for you,
A tribute mete.

To you and your great gift of song,
A gift to which the few belong
In perfectness.
And which when used aright is food
For much that counts for human good
And much doth bless.

For lo, it soothes the hurts of woe.
Lifts to the heights from depths below,
And takes the sting
From life's dull round of day by day
The thorns which rend along the way,
And by its wing

Wafts from despair to hope's bright star;
Removes the cruel prison bar,
And frees from care;
It lightens toil and drys the tear,
And takes from many hearts all fear,
And bids them dare.

And so, within this cup, indeed,
A cup of love, and long decreed
To love's good will,
We give to you wher'er you be,
Best wishes from the U. D. C.,
Thru good or ill.

As a prelude to the recital the officers of the chapter held a reception from 7 to 8 in the church parlors, those in line from out of town being:

Mrs. James B. Gantt, of Jefferson City, national registrar; Mrs. W. L. Kline, of St. Louis, state president, and Mrs. John Francis Davis, of Kansas City, state historian.

A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system.—W. E. Bard Drug Co.

A Careful Calculation.

One day as Pat halted at the top of the river bank, a man famous for his inquisitive mind stopped and asked;

"How long have you hauled water for the village, my good man?"

"Tin years, sor."

"Ah! How many loads do you take in a day?"

"From tin to fifteen, sor."

"Ah, yes! Now I have a problem for you. How much water at this rate have you hauled in all, sir?"

The driver of the watering cart jerked his thumb backward toward the river and replied:

"All the water yez don't see there now, sor."—Christian Advocate.

She Earned It.

A good story is told about a certain home missionary movement in which every participant was to contribute a florin that she had earned herself by hard work. The night of the collection of florins came, and various were the stories of the earnings of the money. One woman had made dresses, another had gone charing, and so on. The chairman turned to the woman in the front row. "Now, madam," said he, "how did you earn your florin?" "I got it from my husband," she answered. "Oh," said he; "from your husband. There was no hard work about that." The woman smiled faintly. "You don't know my husband," she said.—Tatler.

The first wedding of which we have record was that of Adam and Eve, which is very valuable not only on account of its fine quality and taste but also because of its being seedless, is of a single tree that was found growing on the northern shore of the Mediterranean Sea. This was about the year 1565, or nearly 350 years ago.

A monk in a monastery in that far away country painted a picture of the fruit and wrote a description of it, both of which may be seen in the library of the Roman Catholic University at Washington, D. C. Grafts of this tree were taken to Spain, and from Spain the trees were carried to South America by the Spaniards.—St. Nicholas.

Home Hints.

In cleaning your jewelry use tooth powder and a tooth brush. Afterward let scalding water run over it to remove all accumulation of powder. Then polish with tissue paper.

When you go shopping with a go-cart you'll find the shopping problem easy if you make a bag and attach it to the back of the cart.

Rub block magnesia into light carpet when cleaning it, and then sweep it. This is a good way to clean unwashable bath rugs.

If you don't want your child to slip on the bottom of a porcelain bath tub when you are giving him his bath, spread a heavy Turkish towel on the bottom.

SEEKING A PARDON

MRS. CHARLES W. MORSE, WHOSE HUSBAND IS A FEDERAL CONVICT.

WOMAN PRACTIICALLY PENNILESS

Brewer Worth $50,000,000 Sails for Home, Saying the Strain of Hotels and Restaurants Too Much for His Purse.

New York, June 3.—Heartbroken and practically penniless ,forced to sell her furniture to provide for her daily needs. Mrs. Charles W. Morse continues her battle to secure the freedom of her husband from the federal prison at Atlanta, where he is serving a fifteen year term for violation of the banking laws.

Mrs. Morse is now gathering a monster petition to present to President Taft, asking the release of the financier, and this will probably be completed next week and forwarded to Washington. Mrs. Morse has set next Friday as the date for the completion of the task she has set herself.

The ruined ice trust and steamship combine financier is said to be very ill, and his devoted wife is said to be fearful that he will succumb unless released very soon.

The year in the tombs prison, Mrs. Morse said, together with the six months that Morse has already served in the Atlanta prison, has undermined his health to an alarming degree.

It is said that Mrs. Morse has spent every dollar she or her husband possessed in her strugge to free him. and that for several days she has been continuing her efforts in her husband's behalf practically without money.

"Much as it pains me to admit it," she said, "it is true. I have had to get rid of my electric carriage and put up my household furniture at public auction.

"The mortgage on our Fifth avenue home was foreclosed some time ago, so that all I now have is what my furniture brought. But I do not care—I will beg if I only can get my husband free. Although I have worked night and day for his freedom, it seems that I have accomplished so little. It is discouraging when I look back over it all.

"I am receiving new signatures to my petition by every mail, and I would like to have all those who have petitions mail them to me, so that I may have them not later than June 10."

Count Bresky von Berkenfals, a multi-millionaire brewer from Bohemia, sailed for home this week, after a brief stay in New York, declaring that his $50,000,000 fortune would not stand the strain of New York hotel and restaurant prices. He remarked:

"Food is enormously high in price. That must make people nervous when he orders meals. But when one gets food he generally finds that he is paying for the pinkshaded lights on the tables, the flowers, the elaborate and useless display of monogrammed silver and the elaborate decorations."

For Sale—One clock, in perfectly good condition except that it is hoodooed. Apply at Ralph avenue police station, Brooklyn'

Ever since Lieutenant Callahan died in the Ralph avenue station in Brooklyn the clock which ticks out the time on the station house wall has insisted on commemorating his death by stopping each morning at the exact hour and minute of his demise. Callahan expired at 4:25 in the morning, a victim of heart disease. As he drew his last breath the clock stopped. The deputy who took Callahan's place noticed this fact and wound the clock.

It went until 25 minutes past 4 o'clock the next morning, when it again stopped, although it is supposed to be and had always heretofore been an eight day clock. Again it was wound and the same thing happened, according to the testimony of blue coats, who have a reputation for veracity. The clock refused to go past 4 a. m. Again and again it was wound and set, but it stopped every time at the hour that Callahan got his death shock.

At first it was thought to be a mere coincidence and a clockmaker was called in. He examined it and said he could find nothing the matter. Then the more superstitious among the policemen began to shake their heads and look wise.

"It is hoodooed," said one to another.

Finally the antics of the clock became so uncanny that no one would wind or meddle with it. A requisition for a new time piece has been made.

Unless a respite is granted, one of New York's most daring and desperate yeggmen will come to his natural and logical finish next week in the electric chair at Sing Sing. He is Thomas Barnes. better known as "Bangor Billy," and was one of the leaders of a band of criminals which for a time terrorized New York. The crime for which he is to pay the extreme penalty is the murder of John Leonard, a member of "Bangor Billy's" band, who had turned informer.

Several members of the band had been rounded up in the south by secret service men. Leonard was one of the prisoners taken. He was sent to prison for a long term, but was subsequently pardoned by President Taft, it being planned by detectives to use him as a "stool pigeon" to run down desperadoes still at large.

The detectives took Leonard to the Canadian border. where he did some work for them, and then permitted him to return to his home in Brooklyn.

Barnes and another member of the band suspected that Leonard was going to give them away and visited him.

A quarrel was started and Barnes shot Leonard dead. He fled, but was arrested shortly afterward' His companion was also caught by the detectives.

WORRY OF FARMER

SOIL TILLER SAYS SCARCITY OF HELP HAS REDUCED THE PRODUCTION.

BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE

People Are Living Entirely Too High —What One Generation Makes Is Spent by the Succeeding Generation.

Washington, June 3.—The cost of living has increased because the cost of producing food staples has multiplied, according to two Illinois farmers, who appeared before the Lodge committee of the senate yesterday. The witnesses were Daniel L. Keleher, of Orion, and Charles W. Robertson, of Abingdon, Ill.

"In the first place, we can't hire enough help to operate our farms up to the limit of production," said Mr. Robertson. "That is true the country over, and that's why the visible supply of food stuffs is not sufficient for the increased demand. A good hired hand is a mighty scarce article.

"And when you do get one he won't work after 6 o'clock, and he has to have the best horse and buggy on the place in which to take his girl riding. You don't know how fussy hired men are getting. It won't be long before they will have to be supplied with automobiles."

Mr. Keleher submitted a mass of figures showing the increased cost of producing and marketing farm products. "Why, fifty years ago I was selling corn for 10 cents a bushel," he said. "Land was worth only $15 an acre in the best corn-raising section of Illinois; now $150 an acre would not buy it. My opinion is that people are living high, regardless of cost, because they are not content to live any other way. What one generation makes the next generation spends."

THE TALE OF THOUSANDS

The Scientist and His Great Discovery.

Many things have been advertised in the local papers for human ailments, but nothing has created the talk and enthusiastic praise in this city and vicinity like Root Juice. Most of those who take the remedy a short while can not say too many good things for the scientist and this wonderful health-promoting discovery. While here the scientist said: "The medicine does not cure disease; it simply removes the cause and gives nature a chance. That is why so many people get well after taking the Juice awhile." Many local people permitted their names to be published in this paper because the remedy cured them and they continue to report at the drug store some great good the Juice is doing. It is certainly a great medicine for the stomach, liver and kidneys. Indigestion, constipation, rheumatism, backache, sick headache, nervousness, and other symptoms of a disordered condition of the digestive and secretory organs are soon removed under the Juice treatment. They are pleased to tell about it at Wilcox's drug store. Root Juice is $1 a bottle. Three bottles for $2.50

How a Monkey Pleaded.

In Barbados the monkeys frequently injure the sugar cane. As a general thing, however, they are inoffensive creatures and the average planter regards them with good-natured tolerance. Once in a while, however, they commit a little too much damage on the growing cane, and an example has to be made of one poor culprit by shooting a member of any particular troop of monkeys that may be found near the scene of destruction. Exposing the dead body as a warning is usually sufficient, and the cane is no longer attacked.

On one accasion great damage had been perpetrated, and the planter—Clarence Agard, now residing in St Lucy, Barbadoes—went out with his gun to act as executioner. He succeeded in isolating one stray simian in a tree that was detached from all adjacent shrubbery. The poor animal, realizing that it was trapped, rushed up to the utmost end of the branch, and then looked in the most appealing manner at the man below. The latter finally raised his gun, and was on the point of pressing the trigger when the monkey suddenly took a little infantile replica of itself from its back and held it out in the most supplicating way conceivable.

The planter, who is fond of animals, had his heart quite touched, and he promptly lowered his gun. A companion, however, in his endeavor to see what else the poor simian would do, raised his gun, and apparently once more its life was in danger. Then ensued a most striking exhibition of animal reasoning. The monkey at once grasped the fact that her first claim for consideration had apparently failed, and the only reason her intelligence could suggest for the failure was that the infant simian was not regarded as her own genuine offspring.

What was to be done? How could she convince these two human brutes that she really was a sad and distressed mother? A happy thought occurred to her. She plucked a leaf from the tree, held it close to her breast and then pressed the breast until a few drops of milk exuded. Then she dropped the leaf, and again held up her baby to the gaze of the astonished men below. Needless to say, she escaped with her life.—London Globe.

DO ELEPHANTS LIE DOWN?

Authorities Differ on Habits of This Wild Beast.

The elephant's legs are different from those of any other animal, straight and columnar, excellently adapted to support its weight; and their shape, coupled with the fact that elephants so seldom lie down, was doubtless responsible for the old belief that they could not bend their limbs. So Shakespeare:

"The elephant hath joints, but not for courtesy;
Its legs are for necessity, not flexure."

It is still doubted whether they ever lie down in a wild state. Gordon Cumming thought that he found evidence in marks upon the ground that the adult bulls did stretch themselves out full length for a few hours' rest about midnight, but the young and the cows, he believed, remained always on their feet.

H. B. Gentry, of Gentry Bros.' All New Feature shows that exhibit here Wednesday, June 8, and an authority on elephants and their ways, claims he has known a herd to keep moving and feeding throughout the twenty-four hours. Except when rolling in mud and water, he thinks it likely that an African elephant never lies down during its whole life. All authorities seem to agree that elephants sleep less and more lightly than any other animal, and J. Lockwood Kipling estimates the period of slumber taken standing up to average about four hours in the twenty-four. Aristotle said that elephants lived for two hundred years, and he may not have exaggerated, for there seems to be an authentic record of one living to be 130.

They had come to the parting of the ways, and at last Mrs. Tartly felt she could with safety indulge in a few trenchant and apposite remarks.

"And now you are going, Jane," she said, "allow me to say that I trust you will leave me in orthodox style—I mean in a proper conveyance. You remember when you came your mother helped you in with your box, which was brought on a wheelbarrow."

"Yes," said Jane, serenely; "that will be all right. My new master and mistress are coming for me in a motor car. I just caught sight of them waiting a little way down the street."

"But," asked Mrs. Tartly, "why didn't they drive to the front gate?"

"Well, mum," said Jane blandly, "I expect they didn't want people to think they were visiting here!"—Answers.

SWEET FACED SUSAN.

She Gave an Awful Jar to the Young Man's Pride.

Day was trembling on the edge of night. The sun had dropped behind the hills and splashed the sky with red. For two hours Susan and Henry had been talking. Gentle reader, do you know what they were talking about? No? Suffice it to say, whatever it was, an amicable conclusion had been reached. Susan was sweet-faced and tender, and the amethystine tints of the evening touched her face softly, and the fading light threw a halo about her head. Yet she was no spring chicken. But what odds?

Henry had passed all the years of his bachelorhood in a boarding house and couldn't have told spring chicken from old hen to save half his salary.

He folded her to his throbbing bosom and then slowly unfolded her.

"We shall be happy," he whispered.

"Yes, Henry," was her murmured reply, "and so harmonious. Whatever you say I shall believe, now, henceforth and for ever."

"I can never be such a husband as you deserve, Susan,' he almost sighed.

"No, Henry," she said, "I suppose not; but at my time of life I can't afford to be too particular. Come in and have some supper."

And Henry went in.—Scotch.

Saloon Thought No. 409

You believe that each saloon in Sedalia collects $35 a day, don't you? If you DON'T, just stand around in any of them for an hour on any night, and see just what they take in. If they collect only $35 a day it means that Sedalia spends over $1,000 a day for liquor. Now, when you go home tonight, just take your pencil and figure up what there is in Sedalia tonight to show for the $1,000 that went over our bars today. What is there to make our city a BETTER city? What is left to make the collections BETTER today? What is there left of this $1,000 to be TAXED next year, and make you or any other people pay LESS taxes? What have the men who spent this $1,000 today to SHOW for their money? Do you mean to say that if the $30,000 spent since the first of MAY for booze were spent with the merchants for the homes that collections would not have been BETTER today?

Do you mean to say that we must spend $30,000 a month with our saloons to make collections good? Do you mean to say that this waste of money makes more HOMES in Sedalia? ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS A DAY, and what have we to show for it. THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS A YEAR, nearly $40 a head for every living soul in the city limits, all in the name of "LOW TAXES," "PERSONAL LIBERTY," "PROSPERITY," etc. When this enormous waste has been going on for FIFTY YEARS, is it HARD for you to see why the money is not here, to buy that piece of property that you have for sale? Is it any wonder to you that we must borrow the money to build larger school houses? If it were YOU, wouldn't YOU have to borrow money to build a house, too? Is it any wonder to YOU why the fellow that DOES own a piece of property has to pay taxes as "high as the constitution will permit?" Is it any wonder to YOU why the brewer lives in MANSIONS, while many of his patrons live in mere DOG houses? Is it any wonder to YOU why the liquor men own so much property? Study these simple truths, they affect us as a city, and if you want to make it PLAINER, you try spending $1,000 a day for liquor, and if it makes YOU wealth, and makes YOU prosperous, then it will work out for five thousand families the same way.

Y. M. C. A. COMMITTEE READY TO BEGIN ITS GREAT CAMPAIGN.

ENTHUIASM IS AT HIGH PITCH

Will Attack That $50,000 Building Proposition With a Vigor That Is Expected to Bring Results Quickly.

Think what it will mean to Sedalia when the hundred and fifty men representing the very "marrow" of the city's strength go after that magnificent Y. M. C. A. building Sedalia has needed so many years. "Get the money, or its equivalent," will be the motto, and the character of the men in this movement and their proven ability to get what they go after spells success in letter a mile high.

Every man of the fourteen different committee groups knows exactly what he is going to do, and from whom he is going to get his share, and since you cannot bring forth any valid excuse for holding your money when Sedalia needs it for her Y. M. C. A., there is no way for you to evade participation in this fund. Beginning at daybreak Wednesday, June 8, and ending, if necesasry, at midnight Saturday, June 18, every man enlisted in this work will have that $50,000 mark as a goal and will bring in the money, you can be sure. The hour is set, every man is as ready for the campaign today as if it were to start at once instead of next Wednesday.

As a special feature for the last Sunday before the opening of this great event, a special meeting will be held next Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 3 o'clock in the New Sedalia theater on East Third street. Mr. George T. Howser, general field secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and temporarily secretary of the association at Moberly, Mo., a man whose entire life work for the past twenty-five years has been devoted to the work of the Y. M. C. A. in many cities, will deliver the principal address, and every Sedalian, men and women from all walks of life, are urged to be present.

Mr. Howser is a man of national prominence, a capable and entertaining speaker, and has a message of importance that you should hear. In addition to the address, a splendid musical program has been prepared, and you are assured of spending your time to excellent advantage by your attendance. Every seat in the entire theater is free and no subscriptions to this fund will be taken at this meeting. Every public spirited man or woman in Sedalia should be present at this great meeting, as much of Y. M. C. A. work with which you are unacquainted will be reviewed, and the importance of Sedalia's securing this association building fully explained.

About this time next year you are going to see that magnificent $50,000 structure standing majestically in the city's center and are going to see partial results of its efficiency as a home and Christian club for men, young men and boys.

When you see this building are you going to be able to say that you helped to build it by your subscription? Will it make you feel pride in yourself to know that Sedalia has that building and an enviable name for getting what it goes after, because you chipped in and helped?

Are you going to be part of the machinery that generates a city's progress and brings men to a full realization of their abilities and Christian obligations, or are you going to be a hindrance and stumbling block in the way?

You've got to decide pretty soon. Remember that whether you have property interests or not you cannot help but be benefited by the success of this project—as even a peanut vender shares in the prosperity of his environment, and to contribute to this fund is a privilege and not a grudging concession.

Come to the meeting Sunday afternoon, sure. You will probably be the means of bringing others by your presence.

WAKE UP YOUR COMPLEXION

Here's a Beauty Hint That Every Woman Should Consider.

Does your face need waking up? If the crow's feet are coming and the skin looks sallow, wasted or out of condition, it can be quickly restored to its youthful appearance by the use of Crown Cream and the Harlan Beauty Cup.

As is generally known, Crown Cream stands at the head of the list of Massage creams and skin foods, because it actually gives results that no other toilet cream is able to accomplish. This is because it contains certain ingredients that the average manufacturer considers too costly to employ, and others whose qualities are known only to its makers. Crown Cream is best used in connection with the Harlan Beauty Cup as in that manner every user is at once an expert at face massage. The Beauty Cup does more to restore the skin to its youthful condition and vigor, than is possible by hand manipulation. Wrinkles are easily removed by the simple method of first opening up the skin creases, and then strengthening the skin tissue where it had been folded. Crown Cream is sold everywhere for 50c a jar, and this is also the price of the Beauty Cup. If your dealer is not supplied, either article will be sent direct by the Harlan Mfg. Co., Toledo, Ohio. The Crown Cream Beauty Book will also be sent free by the company, upon a postal card request.

GET "BOILER PLATE" NEWS

Editors Welcome Innovation of Missouri Republicans.

Montgomery, Mo., June 3.—The republican press bureau inaugurated a new plan which was put in force yesterday. Instead of sending out two columns of party news copy, as in the past, two columns of plate matter is now provided the various country papers, and it appears in the country press, and at the same time decreasing their expense account.

One of the unfortunate conditions that the state committee and leading republican newspapers must contend with in Missouri is the indifference of party chairmen and secretaries in many counties concerning publicity for party meetings and proceedings. Some of the conferences held on Saturday were not heard from till the middle of the following week.

Since the Sedalia Cubs baseball team was disbanded several days ago, as told in the Democrat-Sentinel, a number of local baseball enthusiasts have been figuring and scheming to get another baseball team in Sedalia, and have about completed the arrangements for the Warsaw Reds, one of the strongest teams in Central Missouri, to furnish baseball here on Sundays and holidays.

From one in authority it is learned that the Reds are very desirous of playing in Sedalia on Sundays and holidays, and if such a plan can be executed challenges will be extended to Jefferson City, Carrollton, Boonville and other strong teams in the state to come here.

NAVAL GRADUATES

SECRETARY MEYER ADDRESSED THE SENIOR CLASS AT ANNAPOLIS.

THOROUGH DRILLING NECESSARY

This Is What Will Bring About the Greatest Possible Military Efficiency—Battleship of Today Great Invention.

Annapolis, Md., June 3.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer told the graduating class at the naval academy here today that "the navy should be so constituted and drilled that it will have at all times the greatest possible military efficiency."

"Under such conditions only," he added, "can the navy protect the interests of the country and insure peace. The navy is only a menace and a needless expense when it is permitted to deteriorate and when the military spirit weakens."

Taking models of the original Kearsage and of the modern battleship Michigan, which are in his office in Washington, Mr. Meyer said he could think of no comparison that would demonstrate so well at a glance how the duties of the naval officer have changed, and with it the characteristics of the officer and the blue jacket.

Then, after speaking of the enlisted men of the navy, saying that, while in former years it was often difficult to man the ships with American sailors, today 96 per cent of the crews are Americans, he continued:

"While the change in the requirements of the enlisted man is very great, it is equally, if not more, marked in the officer, and the transformation that has taken place in the navy is a transformation not only in personnel, but in material, and in the methods of handling both.

"The battleship of today is a vast, complicated mechanism, and it requires a skilled personnel to make all parts work in unison to a common end. This requires on the part of the officers and men of the navy exacting drill and training. The young officer of today, instead of being sent aloft to furl sails, is sent down into the stokehold to fire furnaces and attend the boilers. There he learns how everything must be maintained in efficient working order to get the greatest speed with the greatest economy of fuel."

He went on to explain how the young officer is given a similar training in regard to the other parts of the vessel's management.

Referring to the personnel bill introduced in congress by which captains will be created from 43 to 48 years of age, and rear admirals at 55, the secretary said:

"The responsibility of commanding a battleship involves not only a thousand lives, but a vast expenditure of money and a possible loss of a unit in the fleet of strategic importance. Therefore, a commanding officer should be at an age to stand the nervous as well as the mental and the physical strain. Our admirals should have more time in that rank to get practice as squadron and division commanders before reaching the supreme command of the fleet."

In conclusion, the secretary admonished the young officers to let their aim be "an earnest endeavor at all times to attain the highest efficiency and not to be satisfied with anything less."

"The country looks to you," he asserted, "not merely to be content to step in the footprints of your predecessors, but to make your own footprints and to do under all circumstances the best that is in you, whether in peace or in war, and thus to maintain the reputation of the American navy for progressiveness, efficiency and courage."

RUSSIAN OPERA IN PARIS

Brilliant Season Will Be Inaugurated Tomorrow Night.

Paris, June 3.—A brilliant season of Russian opera will be inaugurated in Paris tomorrow and the innovation has brought thousands of American, English and continental music lovers to the city.

It is promised that the program will offer several sensational surprises. Among the works to be presented are the celebrated ballet pantomime, "Giselle," the poignant mimodrama, "Cleopatra;" the graphic Hindu ballet entitled "Les Orientales," and Schuman's "Carnival," with orchestration by a Russian composer.

The scenery and costumes will be extraordinarily vivid. The dancers who received such a great welcome last year, Pavlowa, Sophie Fedorova, Ida Rubenstein, Catherine Geltzer and other equally well known artists connected with the imperial Russian theater will all be of the troupe.

Yankee Machine Used In His Double Feat — Briton and Wright Biplane Vindicate Anglo-Saxon Aeronautic Supremacy.

Dover, England, June 3.—The Honorable Charles Stewart Rolls, captain in the London section of the army motor reserve, driving a Wright biplane, vindicated Anglo-Saxon aeronautic supremacy by crossing the English channel twice last evening without alighting.

While two Frenchmen — Louis Bleriot and Count de Lesseps—have crossed the channel in an aeroplane, it remained for an Englisman in an American machine to perform the double feat.

The distance across between the two ponts is twenty-one miles, so that Captain Rolls, over water flight of forty-two miles without a stop establishes a new record.

Captain Rolls started from Dover at 6:30 o'clock. The atmospheric conditions were excellent. He lost no time in maneuvers, but after describing a circle headed toward the coast of France. In anticipation of the flight, torpedo boats steamed at full speed across the straits, but the pace of the aeroplane was swifter.

Captain Rolls sent his machine to a height of 800 feet, and at that altitude he skimmed through the air like a great bird.

The motor worked perfectly. The crowd that watched the start confidently awaited the return, and it was not long before the speck, which those who had telescopes saw disappear on the French coast, reappeared, growing larger with every minute.

When finally the aviator became visible to the naked eye, repeated cheers arose from the enthusiastic spectators, and as he gracefully soared toward the landing place, made famous by Bleriot, he got a thunderous demonstration. He alighted at 8 o'clock, at almost the same spot as did Bleriot, showing little signs of the strain of his magnificent flight.

Captain Rolls has successfully followed the sports of bicycling, automobiling, ballooning and aeroplaning.

He has made more than 160 balloon ascensions.

Taking up heavier-than-air machines he made a flight with Wilbur Wright at Lemane in 1906.

On May last he started to make the cross channel flight, but he had gone but a few yards when his engine failed and the attempt was abandoned.

Hundreds of messages were received in Dover inquiring for every detail of the daring navigator's voyage.

Thousands of persons surrounded the aviator's hotel cheering more like an American throng than the phlegmatic Briton.

Inspector Collecting Larger Dues Than in 1909.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 3.—The steady increase in the amount of fees received from the state beer inspection department offers little encouragement to temperance workers back of the prohibition amendment.

During the month of May, State Beer Inspector Marshall collected $39,299.91, or over $6,000 in excess of the amount collected on beer for May of last year. The collection for the month of April was $36,700.42.

HOLIDAY IN THE SOUTH

In Honor of the Memory of President Jefferson Davis.

Atlanta, Ga., June 3.—A general public holiday reigned throughout Dixie today in honor of the memory of Jefferson Davis, first and only president of the Confederate States of America, who was born in Kentucky 102 years ago today:

The birthday of Davis is a legal holiday in this state, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

In Louisiana the day is observed as "Confederate Memorial day," and in Virginia the anniversary is celebrated with patriotic exercises in public schools.

BLEACHED FLOUR IS HIT

Chemist Testifies Bread From Product Is Harder to Digest.

Kansas City, Mo., June 3.—J. H. Shepard, a professor in the chemistry department of the South Dakota state college, testified in the federal court yesterday that bread made from bleached flour was not as nutritious as that made from unbleached. He was the only witness during the day in the "bleached flour" case.

The professor had digested the bread he used in making tests with a fluid composed of hydrochloric acid and pepsin. The bread made from unbleached flour digested quicker than that made from bleached flour, he said, and some of the bleached flour never digested.

"The failure of a part of this bread to digest was due to the presence of nitrogen peroxide," witness said.

RATTLESNAKE OINTMENT.

Made By Chinese Physicians and Sold As Cure for Rheumatism.

Rattlesnake ointment is regarded by the Chinese physicians as such a sure cure for rheumatism and similar complaints that a big demand for the reptiles exists in Chinatown. Policeman Percy Smith connected with the central station learned of the demand and while on his vacation in Mendocino county laid in a supply of rattlesnakes large enough to alleviate the sufferings of every almond eyed resident of San Francisco.

Policeman Smith has just returned from his vacation, which he spent in the wilds of Mendocino county. With him were Policeman Berg, Andrew Garin and his son, Philip Smith. On their return they brought back a dozen rattlesnakes that were eagerly purchased by Chinese doctors at $5 each.

In order to prepare the ointment the wise men of Chinatown pour a half gallon of alcohol into a two gallon jug in which a rattlesnake is imprisoned. The reptile it is said, usually dies for want of air after a few hours confinement. However, it is left in the bottom of the jar completely immersed in alcohol for at least six months. At the end of that period the alcohol is carefully removed from the jar and after slight dilution with another substance is placed on the market as a sure cure for rheumatism. At Chinese drug stores its price is dear.

However little difficulty is encountered in placing the rattler in the jar a great amount of dexterity is necessary to escape its fangs, for the fatigue of the journey has made it extremely vicious and it strikes at any object. In order to prevent it from striking a noose is fastened over its head by the Chinese pharmacist, who, after being assured that the fangs are under his control, takes the snake in his hands and places it in the receptacle.

A top is then placed on the jar and the string severed. So great is the demand for rattlesnakes in Chinatown and so profitable is the market that other policemen who contemplate a vacation are said to be studying the map in order to discover likely habitations of the rattler.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Only he went to Australia and later became minister to the crown and then premier.

Once again England has shown herself liberal in granting refuge to alien exiles. One evening last month eight women from the ex-Sultan of Turkey's harem arrived in London, and they are now temporarily living at a boarding house in the fashionable neighborhood of Portland place.

An experiment from which much may be learned is being tried in Hungary. It is embodied in the new land bill which is now coming into operation. The proposal is to break up 24,000 acres into settlements, which settlements will be subdivided into plots of seven acres each.

The Turkish bath as known in the West differs materially from t' Turkish bath as used in the East. According to F. G. Aflea, wanderer and mighty hunter, the difference lies in the fact that at home the bath is visited only by men who wear broadcloth, whereas in Damascus almost the poorest are able to frequent it.

AN EXPERT'S OPINION OF SKIN DISEASES.

A prominent national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin diseases, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. Dan Wilcox will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin diseases and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

BABY WASTED TO A MERE SKELETON

With Terrible Eruptions—Grew Worse in Spite of Doctors—Would Scratch and Tear Flesh Unless Hands were Tied—Mother Says

HE WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk.

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. So great was her faith in them that she gave me a small piece of the Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took them home without any faith, but to please her I tried it and it seemed to dry up the sores a little. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for the most wonderful Cuticura Remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment.

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D. 1, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."

BIRTHDAY OF KING

KING GEORGE V. IS RECEIVING LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS OF GOOD WISHES.

AN INTERNATIONAL PEACE MAKER

Shares the Antipathy Felt Toward the Present Administration Same As Mother Queen and Princess Victoria.

London, June 3.—This is King George V.'s birthday, and although His Majesty is receiving many telegrams and letters of congratulation, no official cognizance will be taken of the day until after the period of national mourning is ended.

He will take advantage of the quiet the present conditions insure to continue plans which will result in the solution of the grave and complex problems which confront the country.

The new king is manifestly sincere in his declared determination to wear the mantle inherited from his father, and England is beginning to look to him as an international peace-maker.

If he succeeds only in this one rule, he will do an incalculable service to humanity. From his exalted position George V. can wield an influence invisible but world-wide. In the international field he has a magnificent opportunity, and he will have behind him the good wishes of a loyal-hearted people.

In home affairs King George is finding that there is much for serious reflection and diplomatic, if not the most delicately tactful arrangement. The conflict between aristocracy and democracy, so long threatened, has now reached the acute stage.

Be King George as capable as he may he cannot be expected to bring to bear on this problem the experienced sagacity of his illustrious father, and it is surely an unkind fate that placed in his hands the reins of power at a time when long experience in handling men and complex problems is so absolutely indispensable.

From the people King George will receive every consideration in face of a situation which demands from men of all kinds of political opinion a large-hearted toleration.

It has been said that the new king shares the antipathy felt toward the present administration that the Queen Mother and Princess Victoria openly displayed immediately after Edward's death, when they accused Mr. Asquith and Mr. John Burns of having robbed England of her most beloved ruler.

The charge that he openly used language unbefitting his exalted position to embarras Mr. Asquith seems absurd when taken into consideration with the mild solemnity and taciturnity which have characterized the king during the last ten years. He was a man not given to talk, and certainly not to utterances which might bring upon him the criticism of those who are not worshippers of royal prerogatives.

Whatever writes on the British newspapers may put into print touching his opinions of politics in general and latter-day radicalism in particular, they certainly have not acquired their knowledge from his public or quasi-public uterances, or from any displayed attentions to the members of the opposition party.

He was not the kind of man to make confidences, either. He appeared to rely on none but himself. When he wanted to know something he set about learning it personally. He trusted no one with a mission to provide him with intelligence, but sought it first hand, and those who knew him well say that he would put himself to no end of trouble to acquire the very smallest details affecting the object of his inquiry.

The new king of England is a stamp collector and has a collection said to contain 500,000 specimens. Enthusiastic stamp collectors believe that this taste will lead King George to make Britain's colonies the subject of special attention.

The reason for this belief lies in the fact that a large proportion of the postage stamps of the world have been issued by Britain and her colonies. As a collector from early youth George V. could not help being interested in his British colonials, as philatelists call these stamps, and reading the history of the colonies in his stamp albums it would be only natural for him to be thus led to study the resources, needs and conditions of the colonies themselves.

Stamp collecting is no school-boy affair. It necessitates keen attention to minute details.

Many schoolboys will doubtless envy the new duke of Cornwall the sudden increase in his financial fortunes. From $400,000 a year to the very limited pocket money at his disposal as a cadet at Osborne and Dartmouth is indeed a huge step, but his parents, perhaps wisely, always kept his pocket money to a very modest level, so that many of his fellow cadets were much better supplied with cash than the popular "Sardines."

News from Durbar states that many of the natives connect the death of King Edward with Halley's comet, believing that the comet is a chariot sent to carry the king's soul to heaven.

Sir George S. Gibb seems the right man in the right place as chairman of the new road board, which has been constituted under the development and road improvement act. He is an expert on all that concerns transit, and his knowledge has not been acquired in an armchair, but as one of the greatest of our railway reformers. All modern civilization is based upon roads and methods of transit. England will now, with Sir George S. Gibb's guidance, inaugurate one of the greatest experiments in national development.

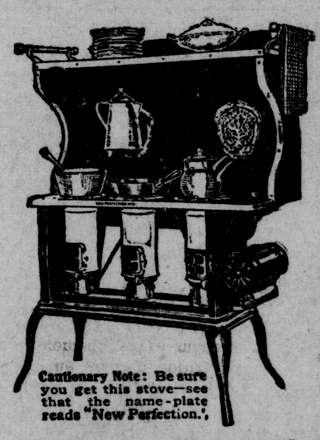
AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection WICK BLUE FLAME Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.



Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

in a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was tiresome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

EARL WHITE DIED

SUCCUMBED AT 11 O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT TO A WOUND IN HIS HEAD.

NEVER REGAINED CONSCIOUSNESS

Was Operated Upon Wednesday Afternoon and Three-Inch Stubble Removed From His Brain—Funeral Tomorrow.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Earl White, the 21-year-old son of J. M. White, engineer at the plant of the Ideal Laundry company, who was found by the side of the Missouri Pacific right-of-way two miles west of Tipton Wednesday afternoon, as chronicled in yesterday's Democrat-Sentinel, died from his wound at the home of his parents, 911 East Third street, at 11 o'clock last night.

Young White, who was operated upon at the City hospital last afternoon, when the surgeons found a three-inch stubble lodged against the brain, never regained consciousness from the time of the operation to his death.

White, as previously told in this paper, left Sedalia Tuesday evening to fish between Otterville and Clifton City. He wandered away from the path, so he told a physician at Tipton shortly after he was found, and fell on a stubble by the Missouri Pacific tracks near Tipton.

The stubble penetrated his head, between the nose and right eye, causing the optic to protrude onto the cheek. He was brought here and removed to the City hospital, where he was operated upon, but the condition of the patient was so critical that no hope was entertained for his recovery.

Young White is survived by his father and mother, one brother, Jesse C. White, and three sisters, as follows: Mrs. Ludie Ainsworth, Bessie and Ethel White.

Funeral services will be conducted at the family residence at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. R. C. Miller, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

CALLED THE POLICE

Six Men Disturbed the Peace of Mrs. Coughlin, Wife of a Shop Employe

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Last night at 8:30 o'clock the police and sheriff were called to the home of M. Coughlin, a Missouri Pacific machinist's helper, 1526 East Fifth street.

He was at work at the shops last night when six men gathered opposite his home and by loud talk and remarks attracted the attention of Mrs. Coughlin, who was in the house. Mrs. Coughlin appeared on the front porch and told the men that her husband was not at home but was at his work.

Instantly some one in the crowd discharged a revolver several times, presumably to frighten Mrs. Coughlin. Mrs. Coughlin then went to the telephone and notified the shops of her trouble and some one at that place called Officer W. S. Murphy, who was dispatched to the home and was followed afterwards by Sheriff Henderson and two deputies.

When the officers arrived the disturbers had disappeared, but Officer Murphy remained at the home until the midnight hour to prevent any trouble, but the men did not put in a second appearance.

None of the men in the crowd could be identified and as a consequence no arrests have been made.

WHY AND WHEREFORE EXPLAINED

Says Some of the Acts Enjoined Are the Very Ones a Sensible Barber Won't Do if He Has Self-Respect.

A tonsorial artist, who objects to some of the recent freak law recently passed governing the craft, criticises very cleverly this legislation in a communication to the Journeyman Barber, the official organ of the trade.

Says this wielder of the razor and shears:

Inclosed you will please find a clipping from one of our daily papers, and if you can find room for it in our next publication, together with this letter, I wish you would kindly do so, in order that it may bring some of our brothers to understand why we are forcer to partake of the very necessary barber law:

"Waterloo, Neb., April 25.—An ordinance has been passed by the city council and signed by the mayor, and is effective at once, which among other things, regulates matters relative to the cleanliness of barber shops, and then provides:

"'It shall be unlawful for any barber in this town to eat onions between 7 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m. No barber while shaving a customer shall insert his thumb or

MORE TEDDY TALK

ENGLISH PAPERS THINK ROOSEVELT SHOWED BAD TASTE, TO SAY THE LEAST.

SHOULDN'T HAVE "BUTTED IN"

Britons Think the Way They Govern Other Lands Is Something With Which the Former President Has Nothing to Do.

London, June 2.—Mr. Roosevelt's speech at Guild hall Tuesday continued today to be the sensation of newspapers throughout the country.

The editorial comments on his startling utterances concerning British rule in Egypt were influenced as a rule by partisanship. The Conservative press defends the conclusions drawn by the American statesman, while the Liberal papers oppose his deductions with equal seriousness.

But outside the questions of fact set forth, the newspapers almost without exception challenge the propriety of a foreign guest of the city criticising the colonial policy of the empire. Of the comments of the Conservative press the following are samples

The Globe: It was not the time nor the place nor was the ex-president the person to display this particular form of interest in the business of his hosts.

The Pall Mall Gazette: The unconventional is justified only by success. If he prefers realities to the proprieties where vital interests are concerned, so does the judgment of the British people.

The Standard: That he should lay hands on one of the nation's private and particular political subjects seemed a social crime, not far from sacrilege, but in reading from the speech carefully, there is found nothing of which to complain.

Of the Liberal papers the Westminster Gazette questions the necessity and disagrees with the conclusions of the speech.

The Star says that "Mr. Roosevelt should learn that he is not exempt from the customs of civilized nations."

Mr. Roosevelt passed yesterday quietly. He visted the national gallery during the forenoon and had luncheon with several men prominent in the Irish-Nationalist party. The former president will be a guest over night at the country home of Frederick C. Selo.

There were sixteen leading Nationalists at the luncheon and Mr. Roosevelt had an intimate discussion of Irish affairs with them. Only two speeches were made, one of welcome by John Redmond and the other a humorous reply by the former president.

Before his departure from London, Mr. Roosevelt will be entertained by King George. His majesty will receive his guest, not in the capacity of special ambassador to the funeral of the late King Edward, but as a distinguished visitor.

GROUND TO DEATH

MARY KOHNEK, AGED 5 YEARS, WAS KILLED BY STREET CAR THIS MORNING.

HAPPENED ON EAST THIRD STREET

Child Was Running Across the Track, Turned Back at a Warning Cry and Was Hit—Lower Part of Body Horribly Crushed.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Little Mary Kohnek, 5 years old, daughter of William Kohnek, a native of Poland, employed as a carpenter at the Missouri Pacific shops, and wife, who came to Sedalia last Saturday from Argentine, Kan., was run down and fatally injured by an eastbound Sixth street car, between Washington and Massachusetts avenues, on East Third street, at 10:27 o'clock this morning and died at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon.

The accident was one of the saddest and most deplorable occurring in Sedalia in years. The little girl was completely disemboweled and both limbs were severed and frightfully mangled at the waist.

Mr. Kohnek and family live at 311 East Third street, occupying apartments in the double brick house at that address. The little girl was playing in the yard of her home this morning when she espied the bakery wagon of Tim DeLaney, who delivers bread to the family.

Mary ran and notified her mother saying she would get the day's supply. She did so, the wagon, westbound, being on the south side of the street, and the Kohnek home on the north side.

After getting the amount the mother desired the little girl started to run across the street back home. She was just in the middle of the track when someone, whose name could not be learned, called to her to "look out for the car."

The tot heeded the advice and started to retrace her steps. As she did so she was struck by the car thrown to the rail and run over. The car was stopped as soon as possible, but before it could be brought to a standstill the girl's body had been dragged a distance of sixteen feet and horribly mangled.

The child was picked up and carried to her mother's home. Dr. M. C. Alderman and Dr. W. J. Wills were summoned. Both did everything possible to relieve the child's sufferings. Opiates were administered and the bleeding vessels ligated, but her death ensued at the hour stated.

The car was in charge of Conductor Edward Allen, 1612 South Missouri avenue, with Motorman Robert Carroll, of 501 East Third street, on the front end. Motorman Carroll was so completely prostrated by reason of the accident that he had to be relieved of duty and taken home.

The parents of the girl were grief-stricken and their agony can not be told. The mother was notified a minute or so after the accident and could not enter the room where the child lay.

It was some twenty minutes later that the father was located at the shops and on learning of the accident completely lost his mind, being restrained by the physicians from doing himself bodily harm.

The sight of the child lying on the bed was pitiful in the extreme. "I want to get up, mamma," she would talk in her childish way and then burst into a stream of cries so loud as to be heard by passersby on the street.

Frequently after the accident she would move and twitch, thinking she could alleviate the pain by lying on one side, but the limbs and lower part of the body were so badly mangled that she could move no other part of her body but her head.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohnek have one other child, a son, who is just thirteen months old today.

Coroner F. R. Morley, after investigating the circumstances, decided to hold an inquest at the court house at 5 o'clock this afternoon and in accordance Constable L. H. Kahrs was instructed to summon a jury and the witnesses for that hour.

JOHN T. SHY WED

RETIRED CAPITALIST OF SEDALIA MARRIES LAMONTE GIRL TODAY.

REV. M'CLANAHAN OFFICIATED

Groom Is One of the Best Known Cattle Kings In United States—He and Bride Will Spend Honeymoon In West.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

John T. Shy, a retired capitalist of this city and probably the most widely known cattle king in the western and middle-west states, was married to Miss Leota May Wilson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Wilson, at the home of the bride, three miles southwest of Lamonte, at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The Rev. W. A. McClanahan, pastor of the Fifth Street M. E. church, South, pronounced the words, which united the two as husband and wife John W. Menefee, sr., of this city, an intimate friend of the groom, was the only Sedalian to witness the ceremony.

Mr. Shy and bride drove at once to Lamonte, where they boarded Missouri Pacific train No. 21 for Kansas City, where they will remain until tomorrow noon when they will leave for Denver, Col., to visit, after which they will tour interesting points on the Pacific coast, including Salt Lake City, Ogden, Seattle, Tacoma, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

After an extended stay in the far western states, Mr. and Mrs. Shy will return to Colorado for another visit, after which they will come to Sedalia to attend the tenth annual Missouri state fair, following the close of which they will locate at Kansas City.

The news of Mr. Shy's marriage will be received with both pleasure and surprise by every Sedalian. For years he has been one of the leading cattle men of the United States, buying and selling in all of the western and middle-west states, his operations extending as far as the Pacific coast.

By reason of his residence in this city he is well and favorably known by all and legions of friends will join the Democrat-Sentinel in wishing him and the accomplished young lady, whom he has taken for his wife, a long and happy wedded life.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Mary Kohnek, Killed by a Car, to Be Interred Here.

(From Thursday's Daily)

The inquest to ascertain who was responsible for the death of little Mary Kohnek, a 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kohnek, of 311 East Third street, who was run over and killed by a street car in front of her home Wednesday forenoon, was concluded this morning.

The jury held no one responsible for the accident, but recommended that the Sedalia Light and Traction Co. place fenders on each of the cars as a preventive of a repetition of yesterday's calamity.

The funeral of the little girl will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Rev. Fr. B. R. McNamee will officiate. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery.

A MISSOURI IDEA

IT'S CONVERTING WORTHLESS CORNCOBS INTO A VALUABLE COMMODITY.

THE STATE'S UNIQUE INDUSTRY

Total Production in 1909 Amounted to 27,733,260 Pipes—The Output Is Increasing Every Year In Great Strides.

Missouri's unique industry, the converting of crude and practically worthless corn cobs into a valuable commodity known the world over as "Missouri Meerschaum pipes" broke all previous records for quanity, quality and value of production during the year recently closed, according to advance information made public yesterday by Commissioner J. C. A. Hiller of the state bureau of labor statistics.

Missouri's production of corn cob pipes, the modern pipes of peace, which make tobacco taste its sweetest, amounted in 1909 to 27,733,260 pipes, as compared with 24,481,824 pipes for the year 1908. This was the output of seven factories located at Washington and Union in Franklin county, Owensville in Gasconade county, Bowling Green in Pike county and Holstein in Warren county. In addition there were manufactured by these same establishments 454,236 wooden pipes, 152,784 pipe cleaners and 1,881,484 extra stems.

This vast array of figures furnishes the basis for the most vivid "pipe dreams" when it comes to determining just how many corn cobs were consumed in this gigantic industry. Even allowing two pipes to the cob it took nearly 14,000,000 cobs for the bowls, not considering the thirteen or fourteen millions of feet of reed needed for the stems. One thoroughly posted on the average yield of corn per acre could go deeper into this interesting subject and establish almost to a certainly how many acres of Missouri's richest bottom lands were used to raise this amount of maize.

While only one of Missouri's pipe factories makes a specialty of the wooden variety, two others turn them out as a side line. As each cob pipe requires a stem it is close enough to say that at least 30,000,000 stems were manufactured in the same period, not all of reed, but a good many of bone, some of amber and several millions of imitation amber and other substances.

Value of Output.

THE WOOL TARIFF.

This summer the wearers of men's ready-made clothing will pay throughout the United States an aggregate of $120.000,000 more than ever before.

Directly after schedule "K" of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was settled last August the woolen manufacturers sent out to the manufacturers of clothing notice of a 30 per cent advance in the price of cloth. The manufacturers of clothing say they can not afford to pay the advance. They pass it on to the consumer, who is compelled to. It has been distributed through every city and village in the United States. By a marking up of prices the $10 suit has become $12.50, the $15 suit $18 and the $20 suit $25. The man that has to have it will still find a $10 suit, but most of it will be shoddy.

During the tariff debate, says a writer in the Delineator Magazine, congress received a communication from the Cincinnati Clothiers' association, urging a reduction in the tariff on woolen and worsted goods, which was not granted. The Cincinnati association said:

"Not in fifty years has the cloth in our trade been of so inferior a quality for the price as now. The masses consisting of laborers, mechanics and farmers, the real users of ready-made clothing, are receiving practically no value for their money. The quality and colorings are so poor that in many instances the colors fade and cockle, and in the manufacture of garments give positively no satisfaction to the wearer."

Not only the suit of clothes, but everything else that the working man uses has gone up in price. The denim overalls that he formerly purchased for 50 cents are now 75 cents and his cotton shirt has advanced from 50 cents to 75 cents and $1. He is still offered a 50 cent shirt, but it is made of a poor, flimsy fabric, in which he really can not afford to invest if he has the price of the better quality.

A REFORMED PROTECTIONIST.

Eugene N. Foss, the Massachusetts congressman whose election a short time ago, as a democrat, from the old, staunchly republican Plymouth Rock district, brought consternation into the hearts of republican leaders and the joy of hope to democrats, made this significant statement in his speech in the house the other day:

It seems to devolve upon me as a representative here in congress of this reform and as a representative manufacturer in the iron and steel industry of New England, engaged in the production of important lines of machinery, employing large numbers of skilled workmen, and using large quantities of the finished products of the steel trust, to state publicly here that, in my judgment, my industry and the people employed in it would not suffer under free trade conditions. The statement is equally true of other staple industries. In fact, I believe today that under free trade conditions we can compete in the markets of the world in most, if not all, of these industries, and compete to better advantage than we do now.

Mr. Foss, as he stated, is a manufacturer in iron and steel. He, like thousands of other manufacturers who are obliged to use the products of the steel trust, realizes that what ever advantage tariff duties may give him over foreign competition in the same line of business, is more than offset by the exactions of the chief beneficiary of the tariff, the steel trust, which charges all the traffic will bear in this country and undersells every competitor abroad.

Mr. Foss was at one time a high tariff man. He has seen the error of his ways. He has been brought to a realization of the hypocrisy, injustice and fraud of the protective tariff system.

He is confident from his own experience that the system is wrong from every standpoint and he is thoroughly enlisted in the fight against it. Foss will be a tower of strength to the people in the contest against the special privilege interests.

JOHN W. HOUX.

one of the best-hearted men who ever lived in Sedalia, and one of the best friends I ever had, built the store room I now occupy, 110 West Main street, first door west of Bard's drug store, about 40 years ago for a HARDWARE STORE. I have a stock of hardware in it now; am selling it out cheap; also, old wheat flour (you can't get old wheat flour a little later on); coal oil, gasoline, best cane sugar and all kinds of groceries. Am saving my customers from 10 to 20 per cent on all they are buying from me. Wish you would take a few minutes to call so I could explain my plan to you. Don't buy if I don't put you in possession of as good or better goods than you are now or can buy anywhere else at a good net cash saving worth while, and don't buy even then unless you want to, but I believe you would be interested in my new plan, and I want to tell you about it next time you are in town. Will you let me?

CONSTABLE OF SEDALIA

Mr. L. H. Kahrs Asks Republicans for Nomination.

The Democrat-Sentinel is authorized to announce Mr. L. H. Kahrs a candidate for the nomination for the office of constable of Sedalia township, subject to the action of the republican primary August 2, 1910.

Mr. Kahrs is too well known in Sedalia to need an introduction, but it is not amiss to go into his past record as an officer of the law at this time. He served with distinction as chief of police of Sedalia ten years ago, retiring from office with as clean a record as ever an officer established. Just now he is finishing a two years' service as constable of Sedalia, and asks re-election to the office. He offers his past records, both as city marshall and as constable in his aspirations for re-election.

Personally, Mr. Kahrs is a good citizen, esteemed and respected by all who know him. In office, he is faithful, trustworthy and fearless in the performance of every duty. Politically, Mr. Kahrs is a republican, and one of the most aggressive workers in the party.

Custom entitles Mr. Kahrs to renomination, and the republican party will make no mistake in honoring him with a return.

Students as Section Men.

Eight seniors in the school of engineering of the University of Missouri have applied for positions as section hands on the Missouri Pacific railroad, says the University Missourian.

They do not, however, intend to be section hands all their lives. It is a rule with the Missouri Pacific railroad that their civil engineers must first have some practical work on the roadbed before they can do engineering work.

M. L. Byers, chief engineer of maintenance of way, with offices at St. Louis, has written to Dean H. B. Shaw in regard to the matter. He says he can use several of the men. They will be placed on different sections, mostly on western divisions in Kansas and Utah. They will have to work two months as section hands before they will be assigned to surveying parties.

The students will receive the regular section hand's wages, $1.35 a day. When they get on the engineer corps, they will begin with $50 a month and expenses. A $5 raise is guaranteed to the men every six months until they get $70 a month. They they will be given a better position.

The following men have applied for these positions: E. L. Collette, D. E. White, J. W. Grigg, A. F. Schachs, Leon Briggs, C. S. Regan and L. P. Scott.

C. B. Williams, an alumnus of the University of Missouri, who has charge of the Milk River project, at Malta, Mont., has written that he can give positons to eight students on the engineer corps there. The work is an irrigaton project carried on by the United States Reclamation Service.

Other students in the school of engineering have applied for positions with the government in the Philippines. The work will be surveying. A salary of $1400 is paid at the start.

Mr. Cadle Was Re-Elected.

A telegram Saturday to the Democrat-Sentinel from Detroit, Mich., sent by Engineer Charles E. Games, of the Missouri Pacific, brought the pleasing intelligence that M. W. TWO STUDENTS BURNED

Following Explosion of a Gasoline Lamp Last Night.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Kenneth Scott, aged 21, of Creston, Ia., and Ragel Rocket, aged 19, of 1506 East Seventh street, both students at Central Business college, were painfully burned in a gasoline lamp explosion at the college at 7:15 o'clock last night.

The two occupied a typewriting office room at the college, when Scott prepared to light a gasoline lamp. It did not ignite at the touch of the first match, when he repeated the act. Instantly there was an explosion. The lighted oil was thrown on the two young men, their clothing igniting instantly.

Rockett was badly burned on the right side of his face and his left hand, while Scott was more severely burned all over his head, neck and hands.

Dr. W. J. Ferguson attended each. The damage to the building was about $250.

A MISSOURI IDEA

ing prepared and compiled under the direction of Commissioner Hiller, will contain a lengthy illustrated article on the "Missouri meerschaum pipe" industry. The figures now on hand reveal that the 1909 production of the factories which have made returns sold for $448.454, as compared with $431,810 for the year 1908. The early reports for 1910 indicate that the production this year will be worth $475,000. These figures include the value not alone of the cob pipes, but also all wooden ones, the extra stems and the cleaners. At retail these pipes sell for from 5 cents up to 50 cents, according to the design, finish and material the stem is made of.

If their are any corn cob pipe factories outside of Missouri their production is so small that their state labor bureaus do not herald the fact to the world. Franklin county is the center of the corn cob pipe industry of the world. Its output alone for 1909 consisted of 24,423.300 of "Missouri meeschaums," which is nearly as much as the whole state produced in 1908. In addition, 1,881,484 extra stems and 55,872 wooden pipes came from there.

Many Women Employed.

The process of converting a corncob, rough and crude. as every one knows it to be, into the highly finished and pretty "Missouri meerschaum," with either a bone or amber mouthpiece worth from 10 cents to a quarter of a dollar, is highly interesting, requiring much delicate and rapid handling, and many intricate and fast revolving machines. The workers are highly skilled, intelligent and so keen sighted that no damaged pipe bowl ever passes beyond each individual machine. regardless of the vast number turned out hourly. They enjoy the work and take great pains in producing a perfect pipe, realizing that the fame of the "Missouri meerschaum" depends upon their quick, deft fingers. Time has made each so skillful that accidents seldom occur.

Each pipe goes through about a hundred operations and handlings before it is ready to be sent to the packing room, where the finishing touches, such as labeling, sorting and placing in pasteboard boxes, is done by young, neat damsels with rosy checks, flashing ees and nimble fingers. All the machine work is done by male workers, each having his own little part to do. Some run machines which in the fraction of a second cut the cob into the first rough size; others operate the borers, which in a flash excavate the bowl; others have charge of the piece of mechanism that cuts the hole for the stem, and still others manipulate sanding, smoothing, plastering. staining and varnishing machines.

Statistical Facts.

In all, according to the figures of Supervising Statistician A. T. Edmonston, of the bureau of labor statistics, the seven factories which reported for 1909 employed 301 male workers and 52 female, who drew in course of that year $137,327 in salaries and wages The raw material and supplies required to produce pipes worth $484,454 cost $199.981, most of which sum went to farmers for cobs which formerly were considered useless and either burned as fuel or used to fill swamp lands.

Invested in grounds, buildings, machinery, fixtures, etc., the seven factories reported $199,414. a gain in working capital of about $40,000 over 1908. There was paid out for rent, taxes and insurance $2,827 and for other miscellaneous purposes $59,410.

Missouri meeschaum pipes are used the world over, being as familiar on the streets of cities of Norway and Sweeden, Australia. Germany. South Africa, New Zealand, not to mention England and Ireland, as they are in St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago and other American metropolises. A corn cob pipe may not strike the casual observer as worthy of consideration until it is known that they are made of a commodity which was once considered to be possessed of no value at all—the ordinary corn cob—an article once so worthless that it was a serious question of how to cheaply and quickly rid the farm of it. After this reflection the observer, if he has ever been fortunate enough to taste of the sweetness of a "Missouri Meerschaum." can catch the enthusiasm of the poet who sang:

"The pipe that grows in the hayfield,
where I so yearn to be,
The old Missouri meerschaum, lads,
and that's the smoke for me."

The following tables gives the number of corn cob pipes produced in Missouri since 1904 and the value of the total pipe production:

1904....	25,000,000	$417,881
1905....	24.920,532	409,179
1906....	26,206,934	431,901
1907....	24,481,824	472,070
1908....	24,671.460	431,810
1909....	27,733,260	448,454

In six years Missouri pipe factories have marketed 153,014,010 corn cob pipes, and their entire output sold for $2.566,295—all from a side line.

DISAPPEARED LAST DECEMBER

At that Time it Was Thought She Had Been Abducted for Reward. —No Trace Ever Found Until Now.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—A body which has been identified as that of Alma Kellner, the eight-year-old daughter of Fred L. Kellner, who disappeared from home last December, was found in the sub-basement of St. John's Catholic school here this morning.

The condition of the corpse indicated that it had been in the cellar several months. The police believe the child was murdered.

The body was found wrapped in a piece of carpet, save one limb, which was found in another part of the basement. Investigation showed that an attempt to bury the body had been made.

When the child disappeared it was thought she was taken for a reward, but no trace of her was ever found until the body was discovered this morning.

More Gas Found In Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, June 2.—In addition to finding oil and a large deposit of semi-bituminous coal, natural gas in fair volume has been discovered near Rochelle, a small town in McCullough county. The gas came to the surface during the digging of a well for water. Two small gas bearing strata were struck near the surface, but at a depth of 200 feet a large vein was tapped. The product is of excellent quality and a number of other wells will be dug with a view of obtaining gas enough to permit its piping to the surrounding cities.

Scared Into Sound Health.

Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress."—W. E. Bard Drug Co.

PROF. DRISKELL ANNOUNCES

Popular Educator Candidate for Nomination for Circuit Clerk.

The Democrat-Sentinel today contains the announcement of George W. Driskell as a candidate for the democratic nomination for clerk of the circuit court, subject to the action of the primary.

George W. Driskell is too well and favorably known to need any words of commendation to the people in placing his name before them as a candidate for public office. Born and reared in Pettis county and living here during all the years of his life, his career has been as an open book, that all might read.

For twenty-one years he taught in the public schools of the county and made a record for efficiency and faithfulness of which any man might well be proud, and for six years he filled the position of superintendent of schools in such a manner as to win the unqualified approval of teachers, pupils and the public generally.

With both a public and private record unblemished and unstained, he enters the race with the confidence of the people from whom he is asking suffrage.

Always a democrat, from conviction and belief, and always faithful to its principles, his party can well honor itself by honoring him, and if he wins the nomination he will undoubtedly add an element of strength to the ticket not to be overlooked. If elected he would care for the duties of the office with the same carefulness and dignity that has characterized his acts in all the places to which he has in the past been called.

DON'T LIKE LAWS

finger in the said customer's mouth; shall not discuss the gossip of the town and shall not use tobacco while working over a chair; shall not insist upon a customer having his neck shaved or his hair singed.'

"A violation of any of the provisions shall subject the barber to arrest and a fine of not less than $5 for each and every offense."

The article will explain itself, but nevertheless I cannot refrain from making a few remarks.

To begin with the places of business in question must be very poorly regulated and ansanitary beyond perception.

Above al things who makes the laws governing that which we eat? I wonder if the maker of these laws are as particular as to what they eat and drink previous to placing themselves under the sensitive nostrils of the barber who is to wait upon them, doubly earning the meager existence he obtains by so doing. And according to this the barber is at liberty to eat a peck of onions should he wish at 6:45 a. m. and go to work at 7.

Now, who ever heard of a barber sticking his thumb or finger in the mouths of those he works on? I never did and what is more, I fear death by convulsions too badly to run any risk of being bitten by some of the poorly kept teeth which shine at you from between lips that part a mustache and chin whiskers that are matted with tobacco juice and filth left undisturbed by their wearer. Then, too, if my finger were to slip into the mouth, what profession would you turn to to find cleaner fingers than those of a barber?

They shall not chew tobacco while at work. I do not approve of that myself, nor do I like to stop my work seven times while working on a man to allow him to cough up a lung and squirt out a quart of tobacco juice.

They shall not talk on the topics of the town. I do not believe any sane man will willingly talk on a subject detrimental to himself or the business of his employer, and when you deprive a man of the privilege of talking you are going beyond the Maker who bestowed upon us this one of all the seven senses, a pleasure to behold.

True, one says things at times, whether they are the truth or a bare falsehood, that will sometimes hurt someone's feelings. If that be the case with me, or anyone else engaged in this profession, I am sure we would be willing to take our trimming at his hands, if he were able, any time.

Town topics are to talk on, no matter what town, but the wise man knows when there is any one present who would not like to hear what you have to say.

Shall not ask a customer whether or not he wants his neck shaved or his hair singed. Would to God they were in this town. I suppose the formulator of this one clause is a gent's furnishing goods man. You go into his store to buy a pair of shoes or any other article he has for sale, is he going to let you go out of there without trying to sell you a necktie? I should certainly say not. He knows he is a good salesman and before you leave he intends to sell you something you did not come after. I say he does not need a fine—all he needs is some one to tell him where to head in.

I can not conceive of the conditions existing in this Nebraska village. but it is my intention to go east on a business and pleasure trip combined this fall, and I shall certainly go out of my way to learn the cause of its becoming necessary for men on this earth to step between his fellow man, the laws of God, nature and freedom.

Hoping this will not take too much of our time and space and hoping it will appear in your next issue, and one copy be mailed to the mayor of Waterloo. Neb.—A. Kennison.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Sedalia Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.
Sedalia people testify to this.

Mrs. Finira Weller, 1624 E. Fifth St., Sedalia, Mo., says: "Two years ago I was troubled a great deal by backache. I could not control the passages of the kidney secretions and also had inflammation of the bladder. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Bard's drug store, although I had previously tried other remedies without finding the least relief. I was helped from the first, and before long was without a symptom of kidney trouble. As I have had no return of the complaint, I can safely say that Doan's Kidney Pills cured me permanently."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

GOT NAMES MIXED

NEVADA POST MAKES A MESS IN WRITING OF JOHN MONTGOMERY, JUNIOR.

CONFOUNDS HIM WITH "JAMES T."

Would Like to See "John" Governor of Missouri—Latter Credited With a Letter Penned by "James T."

John Montgomery, Jr., was for several years a member of the board of managers of the state insane asylum at Nevada, Mo., and is personally known to many of the people of Vernon county, but the editor of the Nevada Post evidently does not know that Mr. Montgomery has no middle name and hence the "T" is out of place.

Neither does the editor of the Post know that he has confounded John Montgomery, Jr., with his relative, James T. Montgomery, also an attorney of this city, as will be seen by the following article clipped from Friday's issue of the Post, reproducing a letter written to the state game warden by James T. Montgomery:

"Everybody in this section of Missouri and some people in Kansas know John T. Montgomery, of Sedalia, and knowing him they are not surprised that he should get into any old talk about game and game birds.

"And that reminds the Post that it would rather see him governor of Missouri than any man in the state. But some fellow without the good of the commonwealth at heart would show him a new kind of a fish hook or tell him about a flight of jacksnipe and without further notice the state could write up a want local for a lost governor.

When he goes to heaven (and if he don't go there is mighty little hope for the rest of us) he will stop at the gate and chat with Peter about the fishing in Galilee.

"Of course he wants some of the state pheasants, and if the warden fails to watch there will be one of the birds under each buck-bush in Pettis county.

"Now read this letter to State Game Warden Tolerton and you will think you are talking to John Montgery. Without the signature the writer of this article would swear to it:

"'I am very glad, indeed, to note that the state of Missouri has a game warden who realizes the importance of the propogation, as well as the protection of our game birds, fish and animals.

"'You are making a wise move in arranging for the propagation and distribution of Chinese ring necked pheasants and English pheasants. And, by the way, there is no difference between the two birds.

"'The ancestors of the English pheasants were imported from China to England some three hundred years ago. For the past three or four years I have been reading up on the propagation of the Chinese and English pheasants, and I find that the climate is well adapted for either.

"'They are not only a handsome bird, but also a splendid table bird, and very destructive to noxious insects and vermin, and therefore are great friends of the farmer.

"'A year ago this month I purchased some Chinese ring necks of the Kendrick pheasantry of Denver. I secured five or six dozen eggs and hatched out thirty or forty chicks, but I made a mistake in using game hens to hatch the birds, and before I got onto it the hens killed the birds soon after hatching.

"'I then switched to the common barnyard hens, with more success. I, however, found that I did not have enough room in town, so sent them out to the farm and built a wire pheasantry, covering about three-fourths of an acre, and succeeded in raising some birds.

"'The farmers in the neighborhood are deeply interested in these birds, and the owners of about 2,000 acres of land have agreed to protect these birds against hunters, and supply feed for them during the winter. I am deeply interested in this move, and I am going to ask you to send me as many pairs of Chinese ring necks as you can conscientiously spare, for the purpose of putting them out in the pheasantry, hatching the eggs under barnyard fowls and liberating the chicks on the 2,000 acres referred to. I believe that I can make a showing this fall that your office will be proud of, so kindly let me have as many as one half dozen pair if possible.'"

NEW PLAN OF KATY

M., K. & T. Train No. 10 Will Stop for Dinner at Mokane.

Notice was served on W. H. Otto, local manager of the M., K. & T. dining station, late Tuesday evening that in the future, effective today, passengers on M., K. & T. train No. 10, the northbound Katy Limited, will be served dinner at Mokane, Mo., instead of in Sedalia, as has been the custom, since the train was established some months ago.

The new arrangement was made at the instigation of F. E. Miller, superintendent of dining service. Passengers on that train have been breakfasted at Nevada at 9:35 a. m. and less than three hours later were dined for dinner at Sedalia.

With the new arrangement the passengers will have at least five hours between breakfast and dinner.

Wage Increase Asked From the Frelich Garment Company.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—Local No. 188 of the Skirt and Cloak Pressers' Union has voted a strike against the Frelich Skirt company, Fourteenth and Locust streets, demanding an increase of 2½ cents per garment and better shop conditions.

In the absence of Samuel Frelich, president, Mrs. Frelich said that the real cause of the strike was the refusal of the workers to work with a new man. She said that she never heard any complaint on the wages, which are 12, 15 and 17½ cents a garment.

So we're going to clear our stocks and June will be made THE BARGAIN MONTH OF 1910, offering merchandise, this Spring and Summer Goods, at big savings. We mean to sell everything in seasonable goods at unequaled price reductions & we have been liberal in price-cutting, as the items show

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Carl A. Guenther, proprietor of Guenther's dry goods emporium, late Monday awarded to Jerome Moyer the contract for the erection of the new $8,000 brick building at 121 East Third street.

Contractor Moyer will begin active work within the next ten days, and will have the structure entirely finished according to contract by October 1.

The building will be three stories and a basement. Ordinary brick will be used to construct the two sides and rear of the building, while the front will be constructed of pressed buff brick.

The basement will have a cement floor, and the foundation will be so serviceably constructed as to add two additional stories if ever needed

The first story will afford one of the most convenient and commodious store-rooms in the city.

The second floor will be a flat, containing five rooms, with a wide hallway. The third floor will be a duplicate of the second.

The entire building will be equipped with electric and gas lights, hot and cold water, steam heat and every modern convenience.

The front windows in all three stories will be plate glass. White marble will be used at the front door entrance, also under the show windows and in the vestibule. Prism glass to give more light will be another noticeable feature.

When completed Mr. Guenther will have expended almost $12,000 on the building and lot, and it will be recorded in local realty circles as one of the finest structures ever built in the Queen City.

Eight contractors bid on the work, Mr. Moyer being the lowest bidder.

FLY CAUSES DEATH

GIVES NEW LIFE TO NATION-WIDE WAR AGAINST NASTY HOUSE PESTS.

THE INFECTIONS OF CAT'S SCRATCH

Public Just Beginning to Realize the Danger of the Pesky Fly, for Which There Is No Earthly Excuse.

New York, May 31.—Health Commissioner Lederle stated yesterday that the recent death of Edward H. Pratt, a prominent Jersey City business man, of blood poisoning caused by a common house fly's infection of a cat's scratch on his hand, would doubtless give an impetus to the nation-wide warfare now being waged against the pests.

"In addition to the ordinance," said Dr. Lederle, "that I was instrumental in having passed a few weeks ago, requiring people to screen fruits and vegetables displayed for sale on the streets, I am now in favor of having an amendment to include food on sale indoors."

Edward Hatch, jr., leader of the now nation-wide campaign against the house fly, in speaking of Mr. Pratt's death, said that the public is just beginning to realize the danger of the house fly.

"Among physicians," said Mr. Hatch, "the belief is now held that many an unaccountable death, especially among infants and children, is due to the fatal activities of this little pest. There is no excuse for the deadly fly. He is more dangerous than the mosquito and easier to exterminate."

BALL BREAKS MAN'S NOSE

Brakeman Roach, of the "Katy," Meets With an Accident.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

A. P. Roach, an M., K. & T. brakeman, residing at Fourteenth street and Wagner avenue, braking for C. S. Moore on the work train at Schell City, will be off duty for some time with a badly fractured nose, the result of an accident at a baseball game on East Ninth street Sunday afternoon.

Roach was officiating as backstop in the game, when a batter knocked a foul ball. Roach's face was not protected with the usual mask, and the ball struck him on the nose, administering a blow that will be difficult for him to forget.

The fracture was reduced by the surgeons at the company hospital.

13 STAB WOUNDS

D. A. GRAMMAR, OF THE "PALACE OF SWEETS," BADLY HURT ON SUNDAY.

STABBED BY MYER MOSKOVITZ

Injured Man Will Recover Unless Blood Poisoning Sets In—Patient Being Cared for at Maywood Hospital.

(From Monday's Daily.)

D. A. Grammar, proprietor of Grammar's Palace of Sweets, 418 South Ohio avenue, was seriously stabbed in the back thirteen times by Myer Moskovitz, a 19-year-old clerk, employed by the management of the Busy Bee Ice Cream parlors, in the later place of business, 214 South Ohio avenue, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The wounds were inflicted evidently with a small pen knife. Each wound was from one-half to three-fourths inch deep, and none penetrated the lungs. Mr. Grammar immediately after the stabbing walked to Maywood hospital, where he was given attention by the staff surgeons. He was assigned to a ward of the institution and is resting nicely there today, although if blood poisoning develops the wounds may prove fatal.

Moskovitz, who was promptly discharged by the Busy Bee management, was arrested some twenty minutes after the affray by Fred Robertson and J. H. Bower, patrolmen. He was taken to the city jail and searched, but the weapon with which he did the work could not be found.

He was committed to a cell awaiting the results of his victim's wounds. Today Prosecuting Attorney H. D. Dow filed information against Grammar's assailant, charging felonious assault, a penitentiary offense if proven.

There are several versions of the origin of the affray. From the authorities it is learned that Grammar was passing the Busy Bee parlors when Moskavitz saluted him with this remark, "Hello, Dago."

Grammar is said to have entered the place to request Moskovitz to forget the remark, when the two engaged in an argument. The words grew more heated, and suddenly the two clinched.

Moskovitz held a penknife in his hand, and while the two were wrestling he inflicted thirteen stab wounds in Grammar's back, extending from the shoulder to the waist.

Julius Dresser, one of the proprietors of the Busy Bee, in conversation with a Democrat-Sentinel reporter this morning, said he intended to bring suit against the Globe-Democrat for an article, appearing in the first page of today's paper, stating that he (Dresser) was in jail in Sedalia charged with doing the stabbing.

Mr. Dresser was in no way connected with the affray, and was not even at the place of business when it occurred. He regretted the occurance very much, and could not understand how the local correspondent of the Globe-Democrat got his name substituted for that of Moskowitz.

Moskovitz was released on a bond of $1500 this afternoon.

GOULD BOY BROKE

SON OF EDWIN, GRANDSON OF JAY, RUNS AWAY FROM PRIVATE SCHOOL.

A 50-MILE "HIKE" TO NEW YORK

"All In" at New Britain, Conn., He Seeks Police Aid—Family Notified After He Had Spent a Night in Jail.

New York, May 31.—"Say, officer," began a lanky youth of 17 years with blisters on his feet and dusty shoes, to Policeman Thomas W. Grace on the "desk" at New Britain, Conn., police station at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, "say, officer, I'm all in. Will you let me sleep here? My name is Edwin Gould, jr., and I am a grandson of Jay Gould. My father could buy up this whole town and not go broke, but I have not a sou."

Police Grace straightened up with a snort and asked the young man to tell his first paragraph all over again. Whereupon young Mr. Gould, so Policeman Grace says, elaborated his story, and related that he was playing "hookey" from school up at Pomfret Center, about fifty miles away; that he was tired of the whole "shebang" and that while a baseball game was happening on Friday afternoon last he had climbed over the school yard fence and started out to "hike" back to New York over the turnpikes.

"I had $2.50 when I started out on Friday," young Gould explained, which was almost enough to buy a ticket to New York on a regular passenger train, but I was afraid if I got on the train some of the school people or some of my own folks would see me and send me back to Pomfret school.

"I'm a kid, maybe," Edwin said, "but I have seen a bit of Broadway, I'm not blowing about it—I'm just telling you. And so father sent me up here to this school in Pomfret three weeks ago. There are about 125 boys there and it was all right for a while, but it didn't take long for the attractions of the country, even though it is spring, to wear off, so I quit.

"The boys have a blacklist at the school and for the past week I've been on it for some reason. So I got 'sore,' and while the baseball game was on last Friday I slid over the fence during the third inning, with my $2.50 and started for New York. I wish I had the $2.50 now."

Policeman Grace personally saw to it that Edwin was assigned to a choice cell in the north tier of the police station house. The boy was sound asleep about the time he struck the cell couch, and he slept without moving until 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

Before he got up Police Chief Rawlings got in touch with members of the Gould family over the long distance telephone. George Campbell, secretary to Edwin Gould, sr., told the police chief that he would come up to New Britain and take Edwin, jr., back to New York.

When the boy awakened he ate a police station breakfast in a way that a hired man couldn't have beaten. Then he came out to the desk and told the interested cops some more about his wanderings. He did not know at this time, however, that his grandmother, Mrs. George Shrady, and his father were streaking across Connecticut in an automobile looking for the boy.

CLAIMED AT GRAVE

BODY WAS DISINTERRED AT GARY, IND., AFTER BEING BURIED FOUR HOURS.

CORPSE WASHED ASHORE MAY 27

Note Inclosed In a Bottle Leads to the Belief That Three Young Women Had Entered Into a Suicide Pact.

Gary, Ind., May 31.—The body of the young woman who was washed ashore on the beach Friday night was exhumed at the Hebart cemetery last afternoon, after being in the grave four hours, and identified as Clara E. Slattery, aged 30, formerly of Bloomington, Ill., but lately of Chicago.

Miss Slattery's three sisters came to Hebart to search for her. They said that she had disappeared from home three weeks ago, and they requested Coroner Gordon to permit them to view the body.

The three sisters are Mrs. George Slattery and Mrs. Papen, of Chicago, and Mrs. Nelson, wife of a Bloomington physician.

The remains will be shipped from Wilde's morgue at Hebart to Bloomington, where the parents of the dead girl reside.

Two weeks ago the Whiting police were given a note inclosed in a bottle, which was picked up on the beach. The missive was signed by Florence Roy and Daisy Barnes, and said that the writers had ended their lives in the lake. Police officers of surrounding towns are working on the theory of a triple suicide pact.

CLAIM OF $16,000

ASSERTS EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE OWES HIS BACK SALARY FOR 20 YEARS.

REV. T. H. HAGERTY IS PLAINTIFF

Is Only $100 in Treasury at Present—Clergymen Say Chaplain of St. Louis Institutions Is Worth 40 Thousand Dollars.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—A claim for $16,000, which he figures as arrears in salary extending over a period of twenty years, presented to the Evangelical Alliance by the Rev. Dr. T. H. Hagerty, dean of Northern Methodists of St. Louis, caused a lively discussion among the Protestant Evangelical ministers identified with the body at their meeting yesterday.

One of the clergymen expressed surprise that Dr. Hagerty, who, he said, is worth $40,000, should make such a demand on the alliance. The treasurer, after recovering from the shock, declared he never heard of the alliance having more than $100 in its strong box at one time. He added that the amalgamated wealth of the entire membership would not aggregate the amount claimed.

Dr. Hagerty for twenty years has been chaplain of the city institutions. Although he is appointed by the conference of his own church, he claims that the alliance promised to pay him a stipulated salary per year and that in no one of the twenty years has he received the amount promised.

The claim, presented a month ago to the alliance, was brought up again at yesterday's meeting of the body at the Central branch Y. M. C. A. It has caused an involved situation. There is not a member of the alliance now who was a member twenty years ago, when the alleged contract was made.

RECENT FOX HUNT

"SPECTATOR" WRITES REGARDING THE MEETING AT ELK LICK, MISSOURI.

'MINT' JOHNS' FINE DOG, 'SCOUT'

The Story of How Green McFarland Lost His Old Hat Betting on His Remarkable Dog, "Buggar."

Correspondence Democrat-Sentinel.

Elk Lick Springs, Mo., May 30.—It was the greatest fox hunt ever pulled off in Missouri. It was enjoyed by about two hundred men and women and about one hundred dogs The dogs were of most all colors and sizes, and the best lot of dogs the writer had ever seen at one time.

There were dogs from five or six counties and as many states—Arkansas, Kentucky, Virginia and Missouri, and men in all the professions of life. In age, the hunters ranged from six to eighty-one years. There was also one woman fox hunter, who was an expert at the sport, and we would say one of the best judges of dogs in the state.

There were thirty-eight dogs entered in the cup race, thirty-five of which ran—thirty-four "gogetters" and one, the most valuable of the lot, which took the place in the fox hunt that the trap does in the club shoot.

This dog belongs to Mr. W. M. Johns, of Sedalia. When Mr. Johns had located a den of foxes in an old log, he placed "Scout," his dog, at one end of the log and he got at the other; and as he would chase the foxes out "Scout" would swallow them.

Then, during the race, as fast as the other dogs would catch or hole a fox, all Mr. Johns had to do was to twist old "Scout's" tail and out would come another fox and in two minutes the pack would have Mr. Reynard going some. "Mint" continued that through the entire cup race.

Mr. Johns had expected his dog to heave up the fox and take after it, thereby starting every race in the hunt, hoping that he would capture the first prize; but evidently he had loaded him too full, and instead of getting first prize, "Scout" got the booby. Mr. Johns seemed to be as proud of his dog and prize as any man on the grounds.

We think that one of the best dogs in the hunt belonged to Mr. Glenn, and believe the judges would like to have awarded him one of the prizes, but owing to its nickname, the editor in publishing a description of the hunt would have thrown the whole cheese into the waste basket. The initials of the dog's name were "F. P.," meaning Fox Pusher; but some scamp nicknamed it and the judges only knew it by its nickname and did not think that it would look well in print.

One of the best true jokes pulled off on the hunt is on Green McFarland, who was very anxious that his dog, "Buggar," would take the prize. In this case there had been placed a number of children in a deep hollow and when the dogs made a lose, the kids were to begin screaming, yelling, trying to imitate the hounds and climb to the top of the hill.

Mr. McFarland, on hearing the noise, remarked with great surprise to Charley Witcher: "There! there! they come, over there! Don't you hear them?

Witcher said: "I don't believe that is dogs."

"Yes, I know it is; don't you hear Buggar? There! there! that's him. That's Buggar. You can't fool me. I know that yelp. Come on, old fellow, you're in the lead now, just stay there until you pass the judges," said Green.

Witcher remarked, "Green, that is not your dog."

"Yes it is; I know my dog."

"I'll bet that it ain't," said Witcher.

"Yes it is; I'll bet you my old hat." (It wasn't worth 15 cents.) Down went his old hat and at the same time down went Witcher's who remarked that the winner take both hats.

"Good," said Green.

By this time the kids had gained the top of the hill and began laughing and talking.

Witcher picked up both hats and Green, standing there with the sun shining down on the top of the bald spot on top of his head, said.

"D— it, don't that beat you?"

Witcher said, "No, you're the one that's beaten."

Green began to beg for his hat and said, "You've won the hat fairly."

"I intend to keep it, too," said Witcher.

Green then tried to borrow it, but being unable to do so he said that he would give him a dollar for it if he would not tell the story. So Witcher swore the writer not to tell it, but I think that I am not violating any oath by writing of it.

The writer had heard a great deal of talk about L. M. Monsees and was very much surprised to find him such a quarrelsome man. He got into trouble with Mr. Harned, one of the meekest of men on the ground. It took the level heads to quiet them and make peace. We think he was abusive to Mr. Johns in presenting his booby prize. Johns knows he has a very valuable dog or he would never have entered him for a prize.

There was much talk about "Tiger water" on the ground. Mrs. White wanted to know how and where they got it, and also how it was made.

Ben Woolery told her it was made by taking the pure spring water east of the house and mixing it with sulphur water.

She turned to her husband and told him to keep watch and not let anyone give it to either of her dogs. If it has the same effect on our dogs it has on some men we can't win a prize.

"Why, Charlie," speaking to her husband, "that Tiger water makes their heads light and legs weak."

The writer hopes to enjoy many more such fox hunts.—A Spectaor.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY

ST. PAUL MAN KILLED HIS WIFE AND THE PRIEST HE SAYS SHE ACCUSED.

HAD BEEN TAKING THE 'JAG' CURE

Murderer Was Spirited Away When Parishioners of the Dead Divine Talked of Taking Law Into Their Own Hands.

St. Paul, May 30.—P. J. Gibbons, a live stock commission man of South St. Paul, Sunday shot and killed his wife at their home in that city. Then, placing his little son in the buggy by his side, he drove away.

A few minutes later Gibbons rang the door bell at the residence of Fr. E. J. Walsh, the young pastor of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, and as the door was opened fired two shots into the priest's head, killing him almost instantly.

Gibbons was arrested and was brought to the Ramsey county jail in St. Paul, as there had been talk of lynching at South St. Paul, where the priest was popular.

At the jail last night Gibbons said that his wife made a confession in which the name of Fr. Walsh was mentioned.

For three days Gibbons has been an inmate of a drink cure sanitarium in Minneapolis. Sunday morning his wife called at the sanitarium, and Gibbons insisted on accompanying her to South St. Paul to attend to some business affairs.

The sanitarium physician protested, but it was finally agreed to allow an attendant to accompany Gibbons and his wife.

Gibbons attended to some business matters at his office, and requested the attendant to wait at a near-by hotel until he procured a rig at his house to take the party back to Minneapolis. The shooting followed shortly afterward.

MATTER OF RATES

NEW YORK FINANCIAL CHRONICLE SAYS SHIPPERS ARE SHORT-SIGHTED.

'TIS GREAT INDUSTRIAL AGENCY

Alleges Wage Advances Increased Expenses of Railroads and Touches on Possible Recurrence of the 1907 Panic.

The following interesting article on the rate question is from the New York Financial Chronicle.

Are not shippers in trunk line territory pursuing a short-sighted policy when they seek to prevent the railroads from advancing their freight rates to recoup themselves for the tremendous additions to their annual expenses involved in the advances of wages that have been going on since the beginning of the year and are still in progress? These shippers, as a rule ,are men of superior intelligence, and with the panic of the year 1907 still in mind they can not be unaware of the close connection existing between railroad prosperity and prosperity in the whole commercial and industrial world. Suppose these shippers were successful in their endeavor and that as a consequence the net earning powers of the railroads became seriosuly impaired, as would inevitably be the case, who would be the worst sufferers? Would not every industry throughout the country feel the blow and would not these shippers, so dependent upon the general prosperity, find that they themselves were hardest hit of all?

Of all the country's great industrial agencies there is none of equal magnitude with the railroad industry. It gives direct employment to nearly 2,000.000 persons, and the outstanding security issues on the same exceed $16,000,000,000. These securities are held by investors, large and small, no small part of them being in the hands of savings banks and other classes of financial institutions. Consider what a diminution in the market value of these securities would mean, together with a reduction in the income derived from them. The diminution in the purchasing powers of the holders would alone be a serious matter. Then consider further what would happen if the supplies of new capital necessary for the development and extensions of the railroad systems were curtailed. or altogether cut off, by reason of the impaired earning capacity of the properties, arising out of their inability to advance their transportation charges to meet the increase in the cost of rendering transportation service.

With new capital unavailable or to be had only in limited amounts, hundreds of millions of dollars which now go each year into productive enterprises would be withdrawn and the fructifying influence of that money in the channels of trade be lost. In other words, with the railroads forced to contract their outlays, their orders for everything needed in the conduct of their operations and for the development of their properties would gradually fall away. This, in turn. would mean that many mills, factories and furnaces would be reduced to idleness, throwing great masses of working people out of employment. That, in turn, would mean diminished purchasing power on the part of a further considerable portion of the population, and this loss of purchasing power would necessarily be felt in other industries, which, accordingly, would have to reduce their output and dismiss some of their wage forces. All this in the end would mean diminished shipments over the railroads and a great falling off in their freight and passenger traffic. The railroads would then have no use for the 2,000.000 men to whom they are now giving employment, and possibly half a million of them would have to be dismissed. The effect would be to still further curtail the purchasing power of the population.

This is no financial picture. Precisely the situation here outlined came about during the panic. The gross earnings of the United States railroads then for several months fell off over $50,000,000 a month, or at the rate of more than $600,000,000 a year. In addition, new capital supplies at the rate of $400.000,000 to $500,000,000 a year were withheld. With that the state of things, government officials and legislative bodies considered it good policy to cease their assault on the railroads, and even merchants and shippers engaged in attempts to revive trade by organizing prosperity associations and sunshine league. Can it be possible that these things already have been forgotten or that an intelligent body of business men would deliberately invite their recurrence?

FOR COUNTY RECORDER

Judge O. E. Parsons Aspirant for Democratic Nomination.

Judge O. E. Parsons makes formal announcement in the Democrat-Sentinel today of his candidacy for the nomination of recorder of deeds for Pettis county, subject to the democratic primary on August 2.

Judge Parsons was for years a popular conductor on the M., K. & T. railway, but the loss of an arm while in the service necessitated his retirement.

A life long democrat, he was nominated for probate judge of Pettis county, and surprised all by the size of his majority. So acceptably did he serve that he was renominated and re-elected, and his second term was practically a continuation of his first, so far as serving his constituents faithfully and efficiently is concerned.

Later, Judge Parsons was an aspirant for the nomination for railroad and warehouse commissioner, but he was a little late in entering the race, and the honor was accorded another.

Judge Parsons' democracy has never been questioned. There has never been a campaign in Pettis county that he did not labor zealously and intelligently for the entire ticket, and his work never failed to bring forth good results. He is widely known in the country as well as in Sedalia, and his friends are legion. In fact, it is doubtful if there is a more popular gentleman in the county, or one with a larger personal following.

If given the nomination he seeks Judge Parsons will add material strength to the ticket, and he will leave nothing honorable undone to see that it is elected from top to bottom.

THE OLD SOLDIERS

MEMORIAL DAY WAS APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED IN SEDALIA TODAY.

MANY BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSED

At Crown Hill Cemetery the Rev. Harold Cooper, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, Was Orator of the Day.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Memorial day was appropriately observed in Sedalia today, despite the fact that rain fell, and as a result there was a smaller attendance than usual at Crown Hill cemetery.

Many of the business houses of the city were closed and the Stars and Stripes floated from a number of mercantile establishments and private residences.

The program printed in the Democrat-Sentinel Sunday was carried out at the cemetery this afternoon, under the auspices of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C.

Following the exercises as above, the Rev. Harold Cooper, pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, made the memorial address, a short outline of which follows:

Three words express the progress of our nation, made under the Stars and Stripes. And three great wars have given to us these three great words. Under Washington the soldiers of the Revolution gave to the commonwealth the word Liberty. Then the boys of the '60s gave the word Union, and finally the young men of the present generation gave to us the word Expansion. Liberty without Union would be powerless, and Expansion without Union would be impossible.

"As I view these silent graves and note the lines of sadness on the faces of those who mourn loved ones, three thoughts come to my mind, which I wish to convey to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Woman's Relief corps and those within the sound of my voice.

"The first one (and all three relate to the war) is the spirit with which they went into the war. What do I mean? Over on the Mediterranean, in a small mountainous country, a boy was born whose motto in life seemed to be expressed in the words, 'I am ready.' That boy, Paul, became the great apostle to the Gentiles. That spirit characterizes the spirit of the men who responded to the call of duty in the days of Lincoln. Ready to suffer! Ready to endure hardship! Ready to face homesickness and pain and hunger and cold, and sorrow of every kind. More even than that—ready to face the appalling fire from the guns of the enemy, when the soldier knew he was sorely needed by the little ones at home.

Then note the spirit with which they came out of the war. The spirit of forgetfulness, not cherishing hatred, but standing together, north and south, under the flag, a union inseperable, now and forever.

My second thought is the homes from which you came. The eagle is our emblem, but should there come a time when a new one is needed I would suggest that we take the old log cabin for our emblem. The homes from which you came are suggested by the log cabin—times of poverty homes that could hardly spare you. Read the annals of glory. Stury your history. Note how many men have come from the log cabin who have played a large place in American life. Andrew Jackson, William Henry Harrison, Daniel Webster and Abraham Lincoln.

"But speaking of the homes from which you came, I must speak of the heroic sacrifices of those noble women who were left behind. They played their part and played it well. All the heroes of the war did not wear blue; some of them wore calico dresses, and stayed at home, teaching the little children how to lisp the name of papa, and to secure the necessities of life from God knows where.

The last thought which comes is the land for which they died. A land flowing with milk and honey! A land of plenty! We cannot boast of crown jewels, like the English king, but we can boast of the crown jewels of childhood, who are enjoying the blessings for which you suffered."

As the Democrat-Sentinel goes to press Rev. Cooper is still speaking, and is giving a picture of the soldier as he went into the war.

REV. CASKEY'S "CATCH"

He Was Formerly Pastor of a Church In Sedalia.

Rev. J. F. Caskey caught a fish, and one he is very proud of, but he did not catch it at Lake Park Springs or the Katy-Allen resorvoir, or in the Marmaton, says the Nevada Mail.

The truth is Rev. Caskey, in walking around on dry land with a lot of old "bum" fishing tackle, happened to be discovered by W. H. Talbot, the prince of fishermen and fishing tackle, and he rigged the preacher up with some real fishing tackle, including an artificial minnow, so the parson could always come home with at least one fish.

Will Be Candidate for Judge.

William H. Curnutt, a Sedalia socialist, has filed with the secretary of state a declaration of his candidacy for the office of circuit judge in this judicial district, to succeed Judge Louis Hoffman.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

Mel Ilgenfritz Seeks Nomination at Hands of Republican Party.

The formal announcement of Mr. C. M. Ilgenfritz for the nomination for the office of circuit clerk of Pettis county appears in this issue of the Democrat-Sentinel. Mr. Ilgenfritz is better known as Mel by his friends, who are legions, few young men being better or more favorably known in Sedalia and Pettis county. Mel is in every sense a Pettis countian, being born and reared in Sedalia. He is the second son of W. D. Ilgenfritz, of the Ilgenfritz Hardware co.

This paper knows of no man in the republican party better qualified for the office which he seeks than Mel; he is a young man, well educated, being a graduate of the Wentworth Military academy at Lexington, Mo., of exemplary habits, with pleasing personality, always accommodating and withal has remarkable business ability, having been an active and successful business man for the past nine years. ASKED GIRL TO DIE

HAROLD VARNEY, OF BOONVILLE, MO., PROPOSED SUICIDE PACT TO HER.

WAS NOT PLEASED WITH THE IDEA

Then the Young Man Took His Own Life in Front of Her Home in Kansas City—Body to Boonville for Burial.

The body of Harold Varney, who committed suicide Friday afternoon in front of his sweetheart's home, 2012 Jefferson street, by drinking carbolic acid, was removed to his home in Boonville, Mo., Saturday morning, says Sunday's Kansas City Journal.

The boy's father, Dr. J. C. Varney, was in the city, but declined to discuss the tragedy further than to say that a love affair was at the bottom of it and that Harold had been in Kansas City for some time. A post-mortem held at the general hospital failed to disclose what kind of a drug it was Varney used.

Miss Stella Back, with whom Varney had been infatuated, said last night that he often had spoken to her of a suicide pact. No later than last Tuesday, she said, he had broached the subject to her, telling her that he did not care to live without her and preferred that they be buried in the same grave.

"I cared for him a great deal," Miss Back continued. "We had known each other before he was married. I did not love him, then, however. That came later. He was always very jealous of me. Recently when he was accompanying me home he became excited because I told him it would be impossible for me to elope with him, and slashed me across the waist with a knife."

CURES SKIN DISEASES

In this article we want to explain to you the cause of skin diseases, and also offer suggestions, founded on reason and experience, which will enable you to cure yourself if you are afflicted with any of the various forms of this trouble.

The skin receives its necessary nourishment from the blood. Every pore is kept open and every gland kept healthy by continually feeding on the nutritious properties which are distributed throughout the system by a pure, rich blood supply. As long as this normal condition exists the cuticle will be soft, smooth, and free from eruptions; when however the circulation is contaminated with humors and impurities its supply of nutritive properties is diminished, and it becomes a sharp, acrid fluid which diseases instead of preserves the natural health and texture of the skin.

Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin is a sensitive membranous flesh which surrounds and protects the tiny veins, pores and glands. It is here the impurities of the blood are deposited, and the acrid matter causes irritation and inflammation which splits or breaks the thin, tissue-like cuticle, and the result is outwardly manifested in Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other disfiguring or annoying eruptive disease.

It can readily be seen that since Skin Diseases are the result of bad blood, there can be but one way to cure them—purify the blood. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are not able to do so, because they do not reach the blood. Such treatment is of no value except for its ability to temporarily relieve itching and assist in keeping the skin clean.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing all humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. The trouble cannot remain when the cause has been removed, and S. S. S. will certainly remove the cause. It cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, blackheads, etc., and all eruptions of the skin. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

For six years I was severely troubled with a bad skin disease, located principally on the shins. The trouble would appear in the form of small yellow blisters, characterized by very severe itching, etc. I tried sarsaparillas, so-called blood purifiers, salves, ointments, lotions and treatment under a physician, but nothing did me any good. Becoming discouraged I left off all this treatment, and just about this time I saw S. S. S. advertised. One day I decided to give this medicine a trial, and after using it for a short while I began to improve. Of course I continued S. S. S. and it cured me completely. Quite a while has elapsed since I was cured and there has never been the slightest indication of the return of the trouble.

I had a bad case of Eczema, it being especially severe on my right hand. I was hardly able to use my hand in my work. I tried a great many things in an effort to get relief but was unable to do so until I read of S. S. S. and determined to give it a trial. I used several bottles of this remedy and it cured the trouble entirely. S. S. S. put my blood in fine condition and left my skin soft and smooth. Though this was some time ago there has been no return of the trouble. CHAS. J. WOLF, JR.
904 S. Second St., St. Louis, Mo.

For four years I suffered severely with Weeping Eczema, located chiefly on the hands, both inside and out, and extended as far up as the wrists. I was under treatment most all the time, but could get no relief. One or two of my physicians said it was as bad a case of Eczema as they ever saw. I lost my finger nails once or twice as a result of the disease, and the itchings, burning and pain I experienced I cannot express to you in words. I kept my hands bandaged all the while, but with only little relief. As I said, becoming discouraged, I gave up all treatment I was taking, and seeing S. S. S. advertised began it as a last resort. A few bottles convinced me that it was doing me good and I continued it, and in a short while I was entirely cured.

Mr. and Mrs. Cram left on the noon train for Williamstown, Ky., to visit the groom's relatives, after which they will decide where they are to locate.

A sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the bride's home immediately after the marriage. The wedding presents were pretty and numerous, and attested slightly to the popularity of the couple.

'DOCKERY' HARRIS IN RACE

Candidate for Democratic Nomination for Circuit Clerk.

Charles Harris, possibly better known as "Dockery" Harris, from the fact that he is a great admirer of Hon. Alexander M. Dockery, former governor of Missouri, makes formal announcement today of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for circuit clerk of Pettis county, subject to the primary election to be held on August 2.

Few young men are better known in Sedalia than Charlie Harris, and he also has a wide acquaintance in the county. He has grown from boyhood to manhood in the Queen of the Prairies, and since attaining his majority there has never been a campaign that he did not hold aloft the banner of democracy and labor unceasingly for victory at the polls.

No one has ever questioned Mr. Harris' democracy. Never before has he been an aspirant for office, but he has always been a hewer of wood and drawer of water, as it were, in the party ranks, and he has a legion of friends who think he is now entitled to the office he seeks at the hands of the democracy of Pettis county.

For several years past Mr. Harris has been engaged in the tailoring business, and is now located in the Arnold building on Lamine avenue. He is a genial, pleasant gentleman, a splendid mixer and if nominated at the August primary he will make a campaign that will have for its object the getting to the polls of every democratic voter, which would mean the election of the ticket from top to bottom.

FOR PRESIDING JUDGE

Judge A. L. Haggard Makes Formal Announcement Today.

Judge A. L. Haggard, who is serving his second term as a member of the Pettis county court from the Western district, today makes formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of presiding judge, subject to the democratic primary on August 2d.

Judge Haggard is almost too well known to need commendation at the hands of any newspaper, for he was born and reared in this county, and during all of that period he has ever been found battling in the cause of democracy.

"Lock" Haggard, as he is called by his personal friends, is one of Pettis county's most substantial and upright citizens—a man whose word is as good as his bond 365 days of the year.

As associate judge from the Western district, he has made a record of which any citizen might be proud. Ever fearless in the performance of his duties, he has made friends on every hand, and his four years' experience as associate justice will be of untold value to him as presiding judge.

The Democrat-Sentinel knows of no man within the confines of the county whose personal popularity would add greater strength to the democratic ticket this fall than Judge Haggard's, and if he should be honored by his party with the nomination he seeks this paper feels confident of his election by a splendid majority.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

STEPS TAKEN SATURDAY FOR ORGANIZATION OF A CITIZENS' COMMITTEE.

WANT TO RAISE SUM OF $50,000

Another Important Meeting Will Be Held Tuesday Afternoon at the Office of Montgomery and Montgomery.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Steps were taken yesterday for the organization of a citizens' committee for the purpose of undertaking a canvass to raise $50,000 for the erection of a building for the use of the Young Men's Christian association of the city.

A preliminary meeting was held at the office of Montgomery & Montgomery yesterday afternoon, and a list of names of individuals, who, it was expected, would serve on the committee, prepared.

These will be called upon and invited to meet Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the same office for the purpose of organizing and planning the work.

The meeting was called for Monday afternoon, the fact having been overlooked that Monday is a holiday, and hence the meeting was postponed until Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

All recognize the necessity for a home for this great work among the young men and boys of our city.

A number of Sedalia's business and professional men have made up their mind that this city shall not be behind the others in caring for and protecting its most valuable asset, its young men and boys and to this end they have selected Mr. S. E. Spencer as general chairman to have charge of raising the funds to purchase a lot and erect a building suitable for the size of the city to be devoted to the work of the Young Men's Christian association. Mr. Spencer has associated with him as chairman of different teams John Montgomery, jr., Dr. W. J. Ferguson, T. H. Johnston, Lee Montgomery, Judge D. E. Kennedy, Judge J. D. Bohling, E. E. Johnston, Jake Brandt, E E. Codding, M. Chasnoff, R. M. Johns, L. M. Monsees, Judge McAninch, Geo. H. Ware. These men will be backed up loyally by at least 125 more of Sedalia's staunchest business and professional men. This means that in the near future an aggressive campaign will be inaugurated that will assure one more public building for our city if the people living in and receiving benefits from the city will do their part financially.

Splendid encouragement has already come through the committee who have this work on their heart. On Sunday, June 5th a mass meeting will be held in the new Sedalia theater at 3 o'clock and will be addressed by some prominent speakers and all parents and those interested in the future welfare of our city should be there; on the 12th of June a union service will be held at the theater in which all the churches are invited to corporate by having their members present and learning something of the work being accomplished by the Young Men's Christian association in other cities.

WILL LOCATE IN TEXAS

Joseph Feddler and Bride, Formerly Miss Bena Gorrell.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kelly, of Childress, Texas, who came to Sedalia to attend the marriage of the latter's sister, Miss Bena M. Gorrell, to Joseph Feddler, a Missouri Pacific machinist, last Tuesday morning, and who since that time have been visiting Mrs. Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gorrell, left Saturday for Kansas City to meet the bridal couple, who reached Kansas City yesterday, after visiting the groom's relatives at Horton, Kas.

The party will spend today at Kansas City, after which they will come here. Mr. and Mrs. Feddler will leave soon for Sherman, Texas, to locate for the present, and will be accompanied on their trip by Mr. Kelly and wife, who will return to Childress.

TO CELEBRATE WEDNESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Menefee Married Forty-Six Years.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Mr. and Mrs John W. Menefee, sr., two of Sedalia's most highly esteemed citizens, will celebrate the forty-sixth anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday, June 1.

However, the affair will be confined

WILL MAKE THE RACE

Mr. J. C. Williams Enters Campaign for County Clerkship.

Mr. J. C. Williams, known by his more intimate friends and acquaintances as "Jack" Williams, makes formal announcement in this issue of the Democrat-Sentinel of his candidacy for the nomination for the office of clerk of Pettis county. Mr. Williams' decision came after urgent solicitations from his friends, party members and republicans, and now that he has decided to make the race, he is in it to the finish and hopes to win, of course.

Mr. Williams is a Missourian and first saw daylight in good old Pettis county, where he has been contented to live ever since.

Mr. Williams knows Pettis county from its early history to date. He has been and is now active in everything that is good for Pettis, and although in public office only four years and that as sheriff in 1896, he probably knows more about the affairs of the county than any other person within its borders. Mr. Williams made one of the best sheriffs the county ever had and he promises the same strict personal attention to the duties of the office of clerk, if honored with election. He is strong, determined and alert, fully qualified for the office and the Democrat-Sentinel knows of no one better fitted generally for the office than he.

Politically, Mr. Williams is a democrat, and a live one, too, and the democrats made no mistake, but in fact materially added strength to the ticket when it succeeded in obtaining his consent to make the race, and the Democrat-Sentinel commends the party and Mr. Williams upon his candidacy.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY

Local Business College Student Arrested at Hughesville.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Robert Garrett, a young man residing at Lexington, Mo., who has been attending Central Business college in this city, was arrested at Hughesville last evening, charged with forgery, according to a long distance telephone message received here last night by Sheriff M. T. Henderson.

The amount of the forgery was unknown to the authorities. The check was alleged to have been signed by B. Dawson, one of the instructors in the telegraph department of the college, and made payable to Mark Wilcoxen.

A warrant charging the beating of a board bill was issued from the "four courts" Saturday morning at the request of Mark Wilcoxen. The latter kept a watch on Garrett at the Missouri Pacific station at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, awaiting the arrival of a deputy constable to serve the warrant.

While the deputy was speeding to the station Garrett walked out of town, following the Lexington branch tracks. All day the authorities searched for him, but nothing was heard from him until the message came announcing his arrest.

Garrett will be brought here today.

People's Pulpit---

Sermon by CHARLES T RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Pastor Russell Homeward Bound

Text: "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the great deep." —Isaiah 11:9.

Pastor Russell is returning to America in good condition after having addressed the public of Great Britain, Ireland, Germany, Warsaw, Russia; Rome and Jerusalem—in all forty times. His largest audiences were at London, about 7,000, with Glasgow a good second.

Mid-Ocean.—As I look abroad and see nothing but water, water everywhere without a speck of land in sight, and as I reflect that we are passing over varying depths, some of which are as great as five miles, I am reminded of the promise in the Lord's word that ultimately the whole earth, the world of mankind, shall have such an abundant knowledge of the Creator and the Redeemer, as to be fitly illustrated by the depths of the sea. I have therefore chosen as my text the words, "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." I remember also the very similar promise by the Lord through the Prophet (Habakkuk ii, 14), "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." I am reminded also of the Prophet's declaration that the time will come when "Every knee shall bow, and every tongue shall confess" (Issiah xiv, 23). And again "That at the name of Jesus every knee shall bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth: and that every tongue shall confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father." And I am also reminded that in that day, "They shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord, for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord" (Jeremiah xxxi 34). The question properly arises, To what extent shall we consider these statements literally true? What kind of fulfillment should we expect them to have?

If we look out upon the heathen world, however sympathetic we may be in respect to foreign missionary work, doing all in our power to make known to the heathen the grace of God, and the great Redeemer, we are nevertheless compelled to admit that there is absolutely no hope of our ever causing every knee to bow, and every tongue to confess Christ in heathen lands, even as we have long ago given up hope of accomplishing such work in civilized lands. The work is too great for us, and the errors of heathendom are too deeply seated to be quickly eradicated. Government statistics show us there are twice as many heathen today as there were a century ago. If, therefore, any of us had been flattering ourselves respecting our ability to accomplish the conversion of the world, it is time for us to acknowledge our error and to look to the Lord, realizing that in him alone is the world's hope. Doubtless this is just the lesson that the Lord wishes us to learn. He does not wish us to give up our efforts to "Do good unto all men as we have opportunity, especially the household of faith," for our own blessing is associated with such activity on behalf of others. But God does wish us to realize that of ourselves we are unable to cope with the situation. He wishes us to realize that only through the establishment of the kingdom of God's dear Son can the glorious blessings of the Millennium ever be hoped for. Alas! We must admit, and should feel deeply humble by the admission, that even in civilized lands, the number of footstep followers of the Lamb of God is very few. The number who are "walking, not after the flesh, but after the Spirit" in civilized lands is very few, in comparison with the population as a whole. We are not in this setting ourselves as judges of the hearts of our fellow-creatures—remarkably few make any pretention to walking in the "narrow way," which alone now leads to life everlasting (Matthew vii, 14.)

The Necessity for Knowledge.

Many dear Christian people, desirous of thinking well of the heavenly Father, are so befogged with the teachings of the past, that they try to imagine that the way to eternal life is not so narrow as the Master said; they try to imagine that somehow the heathen will be saved in their ignorance, notwithstanding the Apostle says, "How shall they believe on him of whom they have not heard" (Romans x, 14). And again, his assurance that "there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts iv, 12).

The error from the past which led to this inconsistency is the teaching that all of the heathen are going to eternal torture, and that they never will have an opportunity of accepting Christ in the future. They rebel against the thought which has come down from the dark ages that God foreknew the ignorance of the heathen and predestinated their eternal torture; that they should not hear of the only name under heaven or given among men whereby they might be saved and fixed their environments so that they never heard. The whole difficulty, we see, lies in the fact that God's people in the past have not studied his Word as they should have done. Some of us subscribed to one creed, and some to another, saying to ourselves, Our creed is not satisfactory, but it is probably as free from error as other creeds.

We consoled ourselves with the thought that all Christendom was considerably befogged, and we no more than others. Some of us probably tried to satisfy our minds by saying that those features of our creeds which dishonored God and implied his lack of wisdom, or worse, his willingness but lack of justice, or lack of power—that these things were mysteries which must be believed, although they could not be reconciled with human reason and common sense. Some of us even tried to persuade ourselves that we were exercising extraordinary faith in these matters, but in reality we were merely ignorant of God's Word, and credulous of the wisdom of our creed makers of the past.

True Light Now Shining.

But now, thank God, "The night is far spent, and the day is at hand" (Romans xiii, 12). "Now is our salvation nearer than when we believed" (Romans xiii, 11). The evidence that we are in the morning of the new dispensation multiplies on every hand! We are evidently in the period which the Bible declares the "The day of God's preparation." God is preparing to usher in the long-promised period of blessing and refreshment, which he has forfeited through all the holy prophets. The wonderful inventions of our day along the lines of chemistry, steam and electricity are fulfillments of the wonderful "Day of Christ," which is nearing. God's people have failed of great blessings in not sooner noticing this fact. We stood, as it were, with our backs toward the east, looking for the sun to rise in the west; we were looking to our own efforts to convert the world, rather than looking to the Lord from whom alone must come the help. Hence the glow in the east had assumed considerable proportions before we noticed it—and many of our brethren are still looking to the west, and angrily refuse to turn and follow the dawn of the new dispensation, which now may be so clearly seen by the eye of faith.

Let us note well the Apostle Peter's words, assuring us that the vision he had on the Mount of Transfiguration made a deep impression upon him. He tells us, nevertheless, that "We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts" —the "parousia" (presence) of Christ, the "Morning Star."

Knowledge a Necessity.

But admitting the promise of the Scriptures that the knowledge of the Lord shall be world-wide and ocean-deep—that every creature shall be brought to an accurate knowledge of the truth, in due time (I Timothy ii, 4-6), wherefor is the necessity for this? Is knowledge really indispensable to salvation? Is it not written in the Scriptures of the Apostles Peter and John, that "The people perceived that they were ignorant and unlearned men?" If their ignorance and lack of learning did not hinder them from having God's favor, and obtaining salvation through Christ, and even obtaining Apostleship, why should so much stress be laid upon knowledge? Does God really care for knowledge? Has he predetermined that all who would be in his favor must be educated, and that he cares naught for the ignorant? Do we not read to the contrary that, "Not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called; but God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise" (I Corinthians i, 26, 27). "Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith?" (James ii, 5.)

Very true, we answer. With God the wisdom of this world is foolishness, and with this world the wisdom of God is foolishness. Knowledge may therefore be viewed from two standpoints. So far as worldly knowledge commending any man or woman to God, or making any man or woman more fit or divine favor, we believe the contrary to be true. Unwillingly we are forced to the conclusion that the great colleges of the world are the most destructive agencies in the earth, as respects the Divine revelation, the Bible, and the true knowledge of God, which is essential to salvation and eternal life. We therefore sharply discriminate between earthly knowledge and heavenly knowledge, and between the wisdom of men and the wisdom of God.

Our Lord Jesus gave us the key to this question of the importance of knowledge in relationship to our attainment of eternal life. He said, in praying to the father, "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John xvii, 3). Only such as attain to this knowledge may have eternal life. Consequently we see at a glance that remarkably few of our race have thus far attained to the degree of knowledge which God would be pleased to recognize. At first this might seem peculiar to us: we might say to ourselves or to others, Why does not God give it freely to all? The reply of the Scriptures is that God is giving his knowledge freely now to a certain class, and that by and by he will give it to all the families of the earth. This essential knowledge is promised to the faithful in the world. He that seeketh findeth, and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. "The secret of the Lord is with them that reverence him, and he will show them his Covenant." "Blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear." Such as thus abide in covenant relationship with the Lord Jesus are indeed taught of God in the School of Christ, and may truly grow in grace and knowledge.

A distinction should be observed in knowing about God, and knowing God Himself. It is not sufficient that we should recognize God as the Creator, for devils also believe that. On the other hand to be intimately acquainted with God means that we must come into intimate fellowship with Him, and this means that we must come unto the Father by faith. By thus coming to our Heavenly Father by an acquaintance with His Word, and through an appreciation of His glorious work, past, present and future, we get a view of the length and breadth and height and depth of "love divine, all love excelling." In proportion as we behold the outline of the Divine character we perceive our own deficiencies and try the more to rid ourselves of them, and at least manifest to the Lord that our hearts are in harmony with the principles of righteousness.

The Sun of Righteousness.

Very appropriately the Scriptures speak of the present as the night time. The tell us that now "darkness covers the (civilized) earth, and gross darkness the people (heathendom)." They assure us that now God's people need the lamp of Divine revelation to guide their footsteps until the day dawns. They assure us, however, that the opening will be ushered in by the great Sun of Righteousness—the Christ, the Messiah, Prophet, Mediator, King of Glory.

Now is the church excluded from this work of shining upon and enlightening the world and scattering its darkness. The Master gave us to understand that the church with Himself will constitute the Sun of Righteousness, which will then arise with healing in its beams. Thus in the parable of the Wheat and Tares He pictures the entire work of this Gospel age and its consummation, which He styles "the harvest, the end of the age." His word respecting the separation of the wheat from the tares is that the wheat shall be gathered into his barn—changed from the earthly to the heavenly nature, and he adds, "Then shall the righteous shine as the sun in the kingdom of their Father." "He that hath and ear to hear, let him hear.'"

The figure of the rising sun scattering the darkness, ignorance and superstition of the world harmonizes with the other picture, which represents the kingdom of God superseding the kingdom of Satan and those deluded by Satan, styled in the Scriptures the kingdoms of this world.

Be Glad and Rejoice.

We may well sympathize with our forefathers, to whom it was not granted to see as clearly as we may now see the glorious fullness of the Divine purpose to eventually enlighten the whole earth by causing the knowledge of the glory of God to fill the whole earth as the waters cover the great deep. To us therefore is especially applicable the prophetic words, "Be yet glad and rejoice forever in that which I create. For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth, and the former shall not be remembered nor come into mind" (Isaiah ixv, 17-18.) Thus does the Lord picture the new dispensation in graphic language. The new heavens symbolically represent the Church in its new and glorified condition, exercising superior control over the affairs of mankind. Likewise the new earth symbolically represents the new state or condition of society—the new social order of things which will be introduced as a part of the new dispensation. Imperfection is now written upon everything with which men are associated, partly because of our fallen condition through heredity, and partly, as the Scriptures declare, through Satan, the god of this world or age, who now works in the hearts of the children of disobedience, prompting to sin and selfishness, pride and ambition and in every sense of the word tending to alienate the hearts of men from the ways of righteousness. Moreover, the adversary is largely responsible for the gross misconception of the Divine character, which during the centuries past have been creeping into the minds of those who were feeling after God, if haply they might find him. All who are of the right spirit, truth seekers and truth lovers, will be glad to abandon the errors of this subject, which so long have hindered a proper appreciation of the glorious character of our Heavenly Father. By teaching us through false doctrines to dread the Heavenly Father, the adversary has implanted in our minds a fear which constitutes a barrier. The Lord speaks of this, saying, "Their fear of me is taught by the recents of men" (Isaiah xxix, 13.) Let us, then, use more diligently than ever before the wonderful Bible, which Divine Providence has placed within the reach of all God's people that we may know Him, whom to know aright is life eternal.

MISSOURI PACIFIC IRON MOUNTAIN

NEW MEN AT WORK

TOTAL OF 134 STRIKE BREAKERS AT THE MISSOURI PACIFIC SHOPS.

ANOTHER BATCH CAME IN SUNDAY

Mr. W. L. Tracy, Assistant Superintendent of Machinery, Says They Are Good Mechanics, Not a "Cobbler" Among 'Em.

(From Monday's Daily)

The Missouri Pacific brought in its fifth batch of strike breakers Sunday to take the places of the machinists who walked out on May 2 because the company refused to increase their wages from 36 to 40 cents an hour.

The men had declined to compromise on 39 cents an hour, for the alleged reason that a proposed change in the shop rules would work to their detriment to a much greater extent than the wage increase of three cents an hour.

This latter is denied by the company officials, who say that the changes proposed would have affected only a few men.

They further assert that the machinists on the M., K. & T. and Frisco systems accepted the 39 cents proposition, and that in insisting on a further increase of one cent an hour the Missouri Pacific machinists were unreasonable.

The total number of strike breakers at work this morning as machinists was 134, as against 136 who walked out on May 2. This latter is outside of the helpers and apprentices, which swelled the total number of strikers to something like 200.

W. L. Tracy, of St. Louis, assistant superintendent of machinery for the Missouri Pacific, is here assisting Master Mechanic McGraw, and in speaking with a Democrat-Sentinel reporter regarding the situation expressed himself as being perfectly satisfied. Mr. Tracy said:

"In the new men we have a good class of mechanics. There is not a 'cobbler' among them. They will be retained, as the copmany has no settlement to make with the strikers. They quit of their own accord, and have no one but themselves to blame because other mechanics have taken the places they vacated."

The shop grounds are guarded day and night, and the strike breakers eat and sleep in the shop buildings, bunks having been fitted up for them in the painting department for sleeping quarters. Scores of people paid a visit to the shop grounds Sunday, but were not permitted to get a glimpse of, much less converse with the new men.

Supt. Tracy was warm in his praise of Sherift Henderson, who has kept order at the shop grounds since the new men were put to work. Some of the strikers have made efforts to see the new men in an endeavor to persuade them to quit work, but the guards on duty have not permitted them to get within speaking distance.

There has been no trouble of any kind since the new men were put to work and none is anticipated. How long the guards will be kept on duty is problematical, but it is quite likely they will not be dispensed with for some time.

A number of the men who struck have left the city and gone elsewhere in search of employment, but those still here who have not secured other employment are paid a strike benefit of $8 a week by the national organization.

Beginning today, the shop doors were opened to new apprentices, and Master Mechanic McGraw stated to the Democrat-Sentinel that any boy who applied to learn the trade and was accepted would be protected by the company and could rest assured that he would be retained until he had finished his apprenticeship, and as long afterward as he cared to remain.

All trains that have brought strike breakers from St. Louis have been stopped at the Marshall avenue crossing, opposite the shop grounds, and the men were marched direct from the train to the shop buildings.

A new foreman came in Sunday afternoon on Missouri Pacific train No. 8 from the west. The train was stopped at Marshall avenue, when the recruit alighted and was met by Messrs. Tracy and McGraw, who accompanied him to the office of the latter gentleman.

New regulation caps are a part of the layout, but Officer John Bower thinks they should have been provided with "ear muffs," as there is no telling when we will have a blizzard as long as the newspapers are daily filled with Halley's comet rot.

Peter Pehl Is Home Again.

AGED BRIDE ANGRY

FOUND YOUNG HUSBAND WITH ANOTHER WOMAN, HENCE SEEKS DIVORCE.

THE PLAINTIFF IS 81 YEARS OLD

Defendant Only One-Half That Age—Was in the Habit of Visiting the Race Track With Sporty Women.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—Depositions filed in the circuit court show anything but connubial bliss attended the marriage of eighty-year-old Mrs. W. K. Maxon-Smith, a wealthy and socially prominent widow, to U. Gar-and Baumgardner, 40 years old, an employe of a dairy-lunch restaurant, a few months ago.

The couple went to Jacksonville, Fla., for the winter, and stopped at the Windsor hotel.

One of the depositions filed was that of a chambermaid employed at that hoselry, and was taken in connection with a suit for divorce which the thrice-married woman has filed, alleging cruelty and infidelity.

The maid testified that Baumgardner treated his wife very cruelly, and that on one occasion he scolded her in violent language for going through the hall in a kimona, and told her that if he caught her with it on again he would cut it off.

The deposition alleges that Baumgardner frequented the race track with "sporty looking women," and that he seldom was with his wife.

In Louisville Mrs. Baumgardner, assisted by private detectives, went into a room where Baumgardner and a woman were, and immediately after filed suit for divorce.
